East Germans Told To Arm At Top Speed

Communist Leader Urges Action To Bar 'Enslavement of Germany'

BERLIN, June 6 (AP).—The Communist scare campaign against West Germany's alliance with the free world whipped to new fervor today with Communist calls for East Germany to rearm at top speed and for overthrow of the Bonn government.

Communist boss Walter Ulbricht—Moscow's most trusted German agent—declared in a speech to Soviet zone railway workers in East Berlin that "armed defense of our homeland must be organized" to block the West's "enslavement of all Germany."

The aim obviously was to scare East Germans into believing they must prepare to fight against being swallowed up by "the great landowners, the magnates and the bankers" and frightening West Germany out of ratifying her complex of treaties with the West. Meanwhile:

Russia handed Britain a $4,653,881 bill for the use of long-distance telephone lines between isolated Berlin and the West during the last seven years. The United States was billed Thursday.

Together the bills total $18,507,441. France uses the American lines and so was not involved. Allied officials indicated they would reject the bills, even at the risk of a cable cut. They already have set up radio telephone systems in anticipation of such a measure.

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's West German cabinet approved instruments of ratification of the six-country European army treaty to include German troops in the Western defense build-up, and of a reciprocal-aid pact between Bonn and Britain. The government hopes to get parliament to ratify these pacts and the West German peace contract before the summer adjournment at the end of July.

The Russian-backed Red police continued clearing out villages along Soviet borders with the West to create a broad no-man's land security strip around East Germany.

Eisenhower Meets Press

Addiction Problem Seen in Synthetics

Ottawa Alerted

OTTAWA, June 6 (CP).—Health Minister Martin said today a new drug addiction problem has arisen in the manufacture of certain synthetic chemicals.

Some of these synthetic drugs, he told the Commons, have strong addiction properties despite the fact they have no relation to the ordinary narcotics such as opium and heroin.

"Our officers and those of the United States are aware of this situation and it will be resisted with all the pressure that can be brought to bear."

Mr. Martin made the statement during discussion of the estimates of his department.

Replying to questions from Donald Fleming (P.C., Toronto Eglinton) and George Murray (L., Cariboo), Mr. Martin said it was not correct to say that the youth of Canada is using drugs in "great quantities." There is some drug addiction among youth in this country and the U.S. and it is being closely studied.

SAW CURE CENTRES

The minister said he visited drug addiction cure centres in Lexington, Ky., and Newark, N.J., but he was afaird the evidence thus far does not support the claims of cures and the results "do not strike us as being very satisfactory."

It had been proposed that Canada establish such a cure centre in British Columbia and this was still under study.

Mr. Fleming noted reports that heroin has become "easily obtainable" in Canada. He hoped the government was keeping a close eye on this situation.

Mr. Martin assured him that it was.

Mr. Murray said an army officer told him that free narcotics were being distributed to the Red Chinese army in Korea to strengthen their morale.

The Orient was the birthplace of narcotics and as Pacific relations improved Canada was being brought closer to "the source of this terrible scourge."

WISMER PRAISED

He believed some of the "milder forms of sedatives" were the thin edge of the wedge in popularizing narcotics and the government should watch this closely.

He paid tribute to Gordon Wismer, attorney-general of British Columbia, for his long efforts to wipe out the drug traffic in the Pacific Coast province.

Mr. Martin agreed that Mr. Wismer deserved high praise for his work in that field.

Identifying of Lady X Brings Mystery to End

BY T. A. MYERS

The mystery of Lady X has been solved.

She is Lady Broderick Hartwell and she is believed to be living in India with her second husband and her two children.

Lady X has been the object of a week-long search by Vancouver insurance investigator Ronald Eveleigh, who wants to pay her a 56-year-old insurance claim.

Until yesterday the trail of Lady X ended in 1901, when she married a British naval officer in Esquimalt and sailed for England.

Yesterday, just when Eveleigh was on the verge of giving up the case, a sudden flurry of clues gave him the name of Lady X and almost her complete biography.

Mr. Eveleigh credits The Daily Colonist with an assist in solving the most baffling case of his 15 years on the Vancouver police force and 12 years in insurance investigation.

STORIES HELPED

Stories in The Colonist prompted almost 200 telephone calls from Victorians who had known Lady X in her youth.

Lady X was born Joan Amy Jeffrey, the daughter of Robert Milne and Mary Jeffrey, in Esquimalt about 1883.

She is now the presumed heiress to the proceeds of a sizeable insurance policy which her father paid up in 1896. The policy, which has been moldering for 56 years in the vaults of Postal Life of New York, has never been claimed.

In 1901 Joan Jeffrey married Cmdr. Edgar Chamberlain of the Royal Navy and sail with him for England. They had a daughter, whose name is not known.

Sometime later Joan divorced her husband and married Sir Broderick Hartwell. A son, Sir William Hartwell, was born of this marriage.

In 1918 Cmdr. Chamberlain was killed when H.M.S. Bulwark was sunk.

Lady Hartwell's brother, Ralph Jeffrey, died in 1918 in Tranquille Sanatorium of tuberculosis contracted in the trenches. He was buried at Kamloops.

Her father, Robert Jeffrey, died in the house in which he was born, in Glasgow, about 1914.

Although no record has yet been found of the death of Lady Hartwell's mother, Mrs. Jeffrey, it is assumed she is dead. If she were alive today she would be at least 90.

Lady Hartwell, who once was an outstanding beauty, would be nearly 70.

Most of these facts were brought out by Victorians who yesterday besieged Mr. Eveleigh with facts and dates they had almost forgotten.

OF LITTLE USE

The one clue which Mr. Eveleigh had considered his best lead—the name of Joan Jeffrey's bridesmaid at her first wedding—turned out to be of little use.

The bridesmaid, Miss Mabel Gaudin, was the aunt of Robert D. Harvey, Victoria lawyer and husband of Margaret Harvey, Conservative election candidate in the city.

Mr. Eveleigh said yesterday his client, Postal Life, will pay the insurance money to Mrs. Jeffrey, if she is still alive. Since this is highly unlikely, the money probably will go to Lady Hartwell.

If she is dead, her husband, Lord Broderick Hartwell, will collect. If he has died, the money goes to the daughter of Joan Jeffrey and Cmdr. Chamberlain, or to Sir William Hartwell, Joan Jeffrey's second child.

U.K. Troops Use Gas On Stubborn P.O.W.'s

KOJE ISLAND, June 7 (Saturday) (AP).—British infantrymen hurled tear gas into a prison compound holding North Korean officers today when the prisoners refused to move away from a barbed wire fence where engineers were digging for a suspected escape tunnel.

When seven British guards hurled the tear gas the prisoners retreated from the fence. There were no apparent casualties.

The new flareup occurred in one corner of Compound 66, which holds 2,700 North Korean officers and 650 non-commissioned officers.

It followed by a few minutes a defiant propaganda show in the same compound. The officer prisoners raised five Communist propaganda signs near the place where the engineers were seeking the suspected tunnel.

A British officer ordered the signs taken down within 15 minutes under threat of tear gas. The Reds complied with the ultimatum.

The signs were the first Red emblems of defiance raised on this island since a sweeping crackdown last Wednesday.

Meanwhile, Allied camp officials were ready to give top priority in "operation breakup" to another trouble spot—Compound 76 where Brig.-Gen. Francis T. Dodd was kidnapped.

U.N. Message Draws Fire Of South Korea

PUSAN, Korea, June 7 (Saturday) (AP)—The Korean government said today that Secretary-General Trygve Lie of the United Nations has "arbitrarily" evaluated the South Korean political crisis "on the basis of second-hand reports and premature conclusions."

"It is very regrettable," said a statement from Clarence Ryee, official government spokesman.

A message from Lie expressing "deep anxiety" was shown to President Syngman Rhee by a representative of the U.N.

Lie's message said "strict adherence to constitutional and democratic processes is all the more necessary" in a country which must "develop all of its resources to join members of the United Nations in repelling aggression . . ."

In reply, Ryee said:

"Trygve Lie apparently has leaped to the conclusion that the Korean government is using 'arbitrary methods.' It is very regrettable that Mr. Lie has chosen to arbitrarily evaluate local conditions on the basis of second-hand reports and premature conclusions."

Steel Talks Stalemated

WASHINGTON, June 6 (AP)—A second day of management-union talks aimed at settling the country-wide steel strike ended tonight without any reported progress. The two sides agreed to meet again tomorrow.

There was no official confirmation of reliable reports that the industry had made or was about to make a new wage offer to the Steel Workers' Union (C.I.O.), headed by Philip Murray.

Voting Heavy In Advance

The last day of the three-day advance poll in Greater Victoria will be held from 1 to 9 p.m. today at the Y.M.C.A., returning officer Alan Macfarlane announced yesterday.

The advance poll is for voters unable to attend a poll at any other centre in the province on the actual election date of June 12.

The vote so far appears to be one of the heaviest in recent years, it was reported.

The advance poll in the Y.M.C.A. includes the electoral districts of Victoria City, Oak Bay, Saanich and Esquimalt.

New Fire Chief Takes Over Job

VANCOUVER, June 6 (CP).—Fire Chief Hugh S. Bird, whose appointment over the heads of 83 of his seniors has been protested, took office today.

Head of the 600-man department, Chief Bird announced immediate sweeping changes, but said few, if any staff changes will be made.

He issued a three-point program of reforms, which mainly involve training routine.

Pro-British in Natal Roar Split Approval

DURHAM, South Africa, June 6 (AP)—Some 30,000 pro-British citizens of Natal province tonight roared approval of a leader's call to quit the troubled Union of South Africa rather than live under Prime Minister Daniel Malan's Nationalist regime.

The biggest rally in the history of the eastern seaboard province massed to hear E. Gilbert Ford, Natal leader of 200,000 war veterans banded under the anti-Malan torch commando.

The torch-lit meeting heralded Natal's campaign for a national convention to redraft South Africa's constitution with safeguards for language, voting and court rights and a tightened link with the Crown.

Most of the province's legislators attended the rally. It was organized by Natal's united democratic fronts of opposition groups.

There has been strong agitation in predominantly English-speaking Natal for quitting the Union if Malan's government tampers with the constitution.

Two Drown In Vancouver

VANCOUVER, June 6 (CP)—Two child drownings occurred in the Vancouver area today, within two hours of each other.

Dead are one-year-old Robert Louis Tweedy and two-year-old Helen Todaryk.

Helen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Todaryk, tumbled off an old wharf into False Creek shortly before 3 p.m.

At 4.30 p.m. Robert's body was taken from the fishpond at the back of his home in North Vancouver.

Aorangi Due This Morning

The Canadian-Australasian Line's Mv. Aorangi is due at Ogden Point docks between 11 and 11.30 a.m. today, it was reported late last night.

Making another in a regular series of calls to this port from Australia and New Zealand, the liner will discharge a considerable amount of cargo here, along with a number of passengers. From here she will go to Vancouver.

Ailing King of Jordan Again Switches Plans

PARIS, June 6 (CP).—Ailing King Talal I, surrounded by reports of a Middle East intrigue left Paris tonight for Geneva after suddenly canceling plans to return to Jordan and his throne.

Talal, suffering from a nervous disorder, had planned to return to Amman as ruler in name if not in fact and guard the throne his government says a younger brother covets. He telegraphed word of his plans to Premier Tewfij Pasha Abdul Hada today.

But later the ruler left Paris accompanied by his five-year-old son, a nurse and several secretaries.

Fawzi Multi Pasha, Jordan's minister to London who now is in Paris, told reporters that Talal may spend "two days or two months in Switzerland before returning to Jordan." The minister said Talal wants to rest with the Queen who is recovering from a recent operation.

A patient of mental specialists at times, the King stipulated that he accepted his cabinet's appointment Wednesday of a three-man commission to act on his behalf during his illness, whether he was in or outside the desert kingdom.

"I am considering myself still on sick leave until the time I have recovered," Talal pledged.

The king, 41, appears in excellent health physically. However, associates say he is subject to fits of mental depression and delusions of persecution.

Much of his persecution complex, these authorities said, is aimed at his younger brother, Prince Naif, regent in the weeks between the assassination of their father, King Abdullah, in Jordan-occupied old Jerusalem last July and the return of Talal to Amman from a Swiss clinic. Naif now is in voluntary exile in Beirut, Lebanon.

Jordan's premier told newspapermen in Amman that Naif tried to seize the throne during his regency and continued intrigues in his behalf in Beirut are causing friction between Jordan and its neighbors.

One of Jordan's neighbors is Israel. The others are fellow members of the Arab League.

The prince regent, elder statesman of the Hashemite family which rules in both Jordan and Iraq, returned to Baghdad last night. He said Premier Abdul Hada told him Talal's mental health had so deteriorated that the king was a menace to himself and to others, but refused new treatment and was unable to shoulder responsibility.

Taft Suggests Compromise

WASHINGTON, June 6 (AP)—Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio went hunting in Indiana today for Republican National Convention votes and offered to compromise on contested delegations from other states. He got a mixed reaction to his offer.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, Taft's chief opponent in the Republican presidential race, commented: "Gee, that sounds good."

But in Washington, Eisenhower's campaign manager, Senator Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts, rejected the idea of a compromise at least as far as Texas is concerned.

"We will enter into no deals which will disenfranchise the Republicans of Texas," Lodge said.

Taft had told a press conference in Indianapolis that "on a fair basis" he was willing to compromise in disputes involving, among others, 38 delegates from Texas, 16 from Louisiana, 17 from Georgia and five from Mississippi.

In several instances, rival Taft and Eisenhower delegations both contend they are the legally chosen ones. The delegates choose the party's presidential candidate and the seating of these rival factions may have an important bearing on the choice of a presidential nominee at the national convention in Chicago.

Eisenhower hurried from Abilene, Kas., to New York to huddle with eastern political leaders and delegates. Another Eisenhower press conference is on tap for 11 a.m. Saturday.

Senator Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, front-runner in the Democratic presidential derby, in a speech at Woodstock, Vt., said that politics is not only challenging and exciting but also "great fun."

Indiana, where Taft centred his attention for the moment, was picking 22 Republican delegates today and the remaining 10 Saturday. The delegation appeared to be lining up to give him 30 votes.

Chiefs Trade Ugh's In Ottawa Pow-Wow

OTTAWA, June 6 (CP).—The Commons took on the atmosphere of an Indian pow-wow today as a couple of honorary Chippewa chiefs held the floor.

Rev. Dan McIvor (L., Fort William), who besides being a United Church minister is honorary Chippewa Chief Sky, thanked Health Minister Paul Martin for the information that 75 per cent of Canada's Indians have now been X-rayed.

He did it as one Indian chief to another, for Mr. Martin himself is Chief Nod-Nah-Gao-Ne-Ne, which means "Helpful Man."

From there the debate went Indian-fashion, like this:

J. L. MacDougall (L., Vancouver Burrard): "Ugh."

Chief Helpful Man: "As an Indian chief I thank you."

Chief Sky: "We are in the same boat."

William Carroll (L., Inverness-Richmond): "I should like to ask the minister . . ."

Stanley Knowles (C.C.F., Winnipeg North Centre): "Are you an Indian chief?"

Mr. MacDougall: "If you are not an Indian chief then don't enter this debate."

Douglas Harkness (P.C., Calgary East): "As just an ordinary Indian I should like to make a remark. It is simply, 'Ugh.'"

Cayuga Due Next Saturday

The destroyer Cayuga, her second tour of duty in Korean waters completed, is on her way back to Canada.

Due at Esquimalt June 14, she was relieved by H.M.C.S. Iroquois. Cayuga, one of the first three original destroyers sent by Canada in July, 1950, to serve with United Nations forces in the Korean theatre, has been in the Far East since last July 24.

When she left, Commander Dudley G. King of Vancouver and Victoria, commanding officer of H.M.C.S. Athabaskan, succeeded her commander, Cmdr. James Plomer of Saint John, N.B., and Victoria, as commander of the Canadian destroyers in the Far East.

Queen Signs Coronation Proclamation

LONDON, June 6 (CP).—The Queen tonight signed the document which officially proclaims the date of her coronation next year and sets the stage for more pageantry tomorrow.

The Queen's coronation day was fixed several weeks ago as June 2, 1953. The proclamation—part of an ancient ritual—will be read publicly at four places in London tomorrow amid colorful ceremony.

The young queen affixed her signature while the Duke of Edinburgh, Prime Minister Churchill, the Archbishop of Canterbury and other dignitaries looked on.

The 1,500-word proclamation was published tonight in a special issue of the official London Gazette. Phrased in old English style, it "charges and commands."

ALL ABOARD

With G. E. Mortimore

We should stop pushing the poor old Legislature around.

A yes vote in the June 12 liquor plebiscite "would mean the government would be compelled to institute sale of liquor by the glass," a Vancouver minister said here.

"Revision of the Liquor Act without compulsion" was urged by the Rev. Stanley Higgs at a "dry" meeting held in a Victoria church.

Compulsion? No, indeed, we don't want that. Should members of the Legislature be compelled to pass a law because people ask them to pass it? Perish the thought, brethren.

We must fight such radical ideas tooth and nail. The civil liberties of members of the Legislature are at stake. Are politicians to be told what to do by an undisciplined rabble of voters? A thousand times no.

They should be told what to do by experts on the alcohol question, trained in the subject by many years' study of theology.

* * *

I am sorry to see that the soldiers of "temperance" do not all march together on this matter.

The Alcohol Research Council, which is a society of "drys" dominated by several churchmen, is protesting because we don't tell our law-makers what to do in more exact terms.

The council wants "a thorough study before we go blindly into more liquor outlets at the caprice of the next Government. Governments don't always to things the way you expect or want."

For this reason, the council says, "vote no until you know what the score is."

I am troubled and confused in my mind, brethren. First you say leave the poor legislators alone and let them work the thing out by themselves, without compulsion.

Then you say the government is not to be trusted an inch unless you tell it exactly what to do. Surely you can't have it both ways? Not in this world, at any rate. In the next world anything will be possible, but unfortunately we are not there yet. Sometimes I wish we were. I say that of myself as well as of my comrades in the total abstinence movement.

Many other citizens of British Columbia will agree with me, I am sure.

* * *

Of course there is also a school of thought which holds that the Legislature has been free all along to decide the question. They say that the Legislature makes the laws, and therefore has power to change the laws.

They say that there was nothing to stop the Legislature from changing the liquor law at any time during the last 28 years.

Then, you may ask, what has the Legislature been doing all that time?

They have been giving the question thorough study—so thorough a study that they have never found time to write the examinations.

That's why I am going to vote "yes" in the plebiscite—to give these students of the liquor question a chance to continue their studies. If we don't, they may lose interest and fail the course. Then things will remain exactly as they are.

"Within a Year"

Proudfoot Voices Optimism About Coast Road Survey

Hope that a survey of the long-proposed West Coast road would be started "at least within a year" was expressed by Capt. D. J. Proudfoot yesterday.

In a talk to the Lions Club, the Victoria Liberal candidate mentioned the "terrific values" ... pointing out the development possibilities of that rugged and scenic area. He mentioned the large sandy beaches and the West Coast's value to the tourist industry.

"We must find something to induce our tourists to remain longer on Vancouver Island. This West Coast road would supply a great part of the answer to that problem," Capt. Proudfoot declared.

He described the proposed road as "an absolute essential."

Dealing with roads and highways generally, he said needs of Vancouver Island were the most neglected of any part of British Columbia.

He spoke of the new Patricia Bay Highway, leading out of Victoria, and reiterated reports that it conformed to Trans-Canada Highway standards—with a minimum actual road width of 24 feet and an over-all 100-foot right-of-way.

There was still some property to be acquired along the Patricia Bay Highway route, he said.

In seeking new roads and highways, he added, it was important that all organizations concerned should work as a team in presenting such requests to government authorities.

Socred Group President Raps Party Candidates

A. H. Jukes, president, Social Credit Association of British Columbia, continued his opposition yesterday to the candidates running as Social Crediters in the provincial elections.

"Douglas' secretariat has taken the trouble to warn the voters in this province that it is impossible to bring in Social Credit by the means now proposed by this party," he said. "Its candidates are misleading the people."

The reference to the secretariat of C. H. Douglas, author of "Social Credit," led Mr. Jukes to the Alberta situation where, he said, "there is not now and never has been one bit of Social Credit."

"Douglas has had to watch, first in Alberta, and now in this province a betrayal of his teaching and an attempt to make Social Credit appear anything but what it is," he said.

"No man or woman standing as a party candidate is a Social Crediter," he claimed. "And that he or she continue to use the name is something for which they will be individually responsible, notwithstanding the bad example set by Alberta."

Degrees Won By Brothers

Two Saanichton brothers have received degrees from McGill University.

They are Nigel John and George Lionel Hopkins, the sons of Lieut.-Col. and Mrs. J. R. Hopkins of East Road, Saanichton.

Nigel Hopkins obtained the degree of doctor of nuclear physics from the university where he had previously received his bachelor of science and master of science degrees.

George Hopkins has just received his bachelor of science degree, with honors.

Both men served with the armed forces in World War II.

Controversy Continues Over Esquimalt Lights

Esquimalt's controversial traffic lights are still drawing criticisms and suggestions from ratepayers, councillors and police officials.

The lights were installed on Esquimalt Road at Head and Admirals after a prolonged campaign by the Esquimalt Ratepayers' Association.

The Esquimalt council after much debating and with the constant opposition of Police Chief Gilbert Stancombe, finally voted to have them installed.

Gerald K. Sammon, president of the ratepayers' group, said last night that association members feel the lights should not be in operation all day.

"We are sending a letter to the council suggesting that the lights only be used during the morning rush hour, lunch hour and the busy period between four and six in the evening. We also feel the lights should not be in use on Sunday," he said.

Esquimalt's Clr. Jack Carey said a plan is being drawn up by the council to have the lights switched off by a time clock during slack hours, Sundays and holidays, and just a flashing red and yellow light will be used.

This is the way to mark your ballot under Alternative Voting

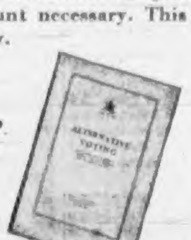

Alternative Voting will be used in the coming Provincial Election.

Explaining Alternative Voting briefly, it may be said that the voter has no longer to content himself with marking an X for just one candidate. He marks a first choice for his candidate, and then proceeds to make a second, third and possibly further choices for as many candidates as have been nominated.

On counting the ballots, if the highest candidate has an absolute majority over and above the total votes cast for all the other candidates, he is declared elected. If, however, no candidate obtains an absolute majority on the first count, a second count is required. Before doing this, the lowest candidate is excluded and the second choices on that candidate's ballot are transferred to the other candidates as indicated on his ballot. If the second count elects no one on an absolute majority, the next lowest candidate is eliminated making a third count necessary. This is continued until some candidate obtains an absolute majority.

Coal-Fired Gas Turbine New Hope for Industry

OTTAWA, June 6 (CP)—Canada's coal industry has opened a drive to place a new type of coal-fired gas turbine engine on the railway track to overcome the threat of the diesel engine, representatives of the industry said tonight.

Completing a two-day conference with the federal government, industry spokesmen said experiments on the turbine have been started at McGill University under Prof. Donald Mordell.

A pilot plant based on the principles of the engine is expected to be completed within five months and by next year the industry hopes to see the railways co-operate in creation of a prototype running at half the cost of a diesel.

The spokesmen, among some 30 delegates which attended the conference, recalled that Donald Gordon, president of Canadian National Railways, recently said the C.N.R. has purchased its last steam-driven coal locomotive and now will concentrate on diesels.

"Well, Donald Gordon may have to eat his words," one coal industry official said.

The conference, held under the auspices of the Dominion Coal Board and provincial mines ministers, was attended by scientists, coal producers and government officials from Halifax to Vancouver Island.

The meeting covered progress on development of a coal turbine, methods of overcoming rock bursts in coal mines and new uses of fine, powdered coal, some of which goes to waste.

The coal-fired turbine is no fantasy, coal officials said. Switzerland already has produced a small model. In Canada, the federal government is contributing about $100,000 to the project.

An advantage of the turbine, industry officials said, is that it will use low-cost powdered coal and will be able to operate at extremely low temperatures far more efficiently than the diesel.

PROUD FARMER

BELSTEAD, Eng. (CP)—Walter Grimwood, 98, whose proudest boast is that he has tackled every farm job, received a special award from the Princess Royal at the annual Suffolk County show. Grimwood started work on the land at age seven, and reaped his last field at 90.

Ridgway Visits Normandy To Wage Peace

SAINTE MERE EGLISE, France, June 6 (CP)—Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway said in a D-Day anniversary speech today that the West would suffer dreadfully if Communist chieftains started a new war "but it would bring destruction to them and their power."

The supreme commander of Allied powers in Europe, who parachuted behind Nazi lines in Normandy as commander of the United States 82nd Airborne Division several hours ahead of the main invasion waves June 6, 1944, issued his warning to what he called "a new and more fearful totalitarianism."

Speaking at nearby Utah Beach, Ridgway said:

"The last time I came here, I came as one of thousands to wage war. This time I come to wage peace."

He referred to "the illimitable reservoirs of our own strength" and suggested the lords of Communism should not interpret the West's patience and tolerance as signs of weakness or a declining civilization.

Meanwhile, near Caen, the Normandy town whose capture cost so many Canadian and British lives, Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery, deputy Allied supreme commander in Europe, said:

"Fourteen Atlantic nations have affirmed their desire for peace and though we are in uniform, we are servitors of peace.

"Fear has taken hold of the world but peace remains our only aim."

Doom 'Yell-a-Phone' In South Edmonton

EDMONTON, June 6 (CP).—The city telephone department today took steps to end the "yell-a-phone" game being played by South Edmonton teen-agers.

Here's how the game goes: All over the South Side youngsters lift the receivers off telephones in their homes and yell into them, without touching the dial. They exchange names, numbers and nonsense.

Here's why the game works: The dial tone on the telephone system is common line, to which all telephones in the South Side exchange are connected. A person lifting the receiver and not touching the dial is connected to this common line.

"Yell-a-phone" works only on the South Side because some telephone subscribers, including city aldermen, complained that the dial tone was too loud when first put into use recently.

So the South Side exchange lowered the tone. Somehow, youngsters found that their voices carried over the dial tone on the common line and they could pass messages without dialing and making proper telephone connections.

To a person lifting his receiver and listening in on the game, it is like a vocal nightmare. In the hodge-podge of youthful bantering, teen-agers yell "who-zat" and "wherejalive."

South Side telephone officials said they would end the game by raising the dial tone so that it will drown out the yelling voices.

Oddities

TORONTO, June 6 (CP).—No one paid much attention to the old man who stood at noon today in Queen's Park with a wreath of faded wax flowers.

He placed the tiny tribute before the monument of his friend Sir John A. Macdonald, Canada's first prime minister.

Racing motors and blaring car horns drowned out most of the speech he read about Canadian unity and the big, bronze figure in the frock coat, dead for 61 years.

The simply ceremony took only a few minutes and when it was finished Arthur Van Koughnet wiped the perspiration from his face and looked up at the statue.

"I was at his funeral," he said to a reporter. "That was in 1891. And I've been putting a wreath here ever since they built this statue."

He leaned forward to straighten the wreath:

"My sister was married to Hugh John Macdonald, Sir John's son. He was the member for Winnipeg."

The sun shone on the tarnished bronze statue.

"Not only Conservatives should remember this man. Everyone should. Look at the Americans. They still think of Washington as the father of their country. Well, didn't Macdonald bring Canadians together?"

Mouse Delays Atom Test

LAS VEGAS, Nev., June 6 (AP)—A desert mouse holed up in a sensitive camera at a forward area of the Yucca Flat testing ground nearly upset the best laid plans of men for setting off the eighth atomic blast in the spring series.

Coaxings of scientists and army top brass failed to budge the mouse. It was finally wooed from its perch with a slice of cheese.

The test would have been [illegible] not been coaxed from the camera, test site officials said.

Presbyterians Will Increase Basic Salaries

TORONTO, June 6 (CP).—The Presbyterian Church in Canada decided today to increase ministers' basic salaries effective January 1, 1953.

A new basic stipend of $2,600 a year plus manse and travel allowance was agreed upon by the general assembly. Previously the minimum stipend was $2,000.

Also approved was a recommendation that the general assembly issue a directive to canvass every person in every congregation each year for necessary funds. Committees will be appointed by presbyteries to see that the directive is carried out.

Stipend statistics showed that during the last four years the minimum had increased only $200.

The recommendation for the increase came from the laymen's committee on stipends. James Dutton of Peterborough said about 265 men would be affected by the change and that the amount involved in the new stipend scheme would be $121,277.

Rev. H. Lloyd Henderson of Portage la Prairie, Man., had a comment for persons who continued to give only as much as their fathers gave.

When the fathers put $1 on the plate it would buy a pair of trousers; now it would buy only braces for the trousers.

The assembly approved the designation of a laymen's Sunday during October of each year. It agreed to ask presbyteries to make arrangements for laymen to speak in every pulpit on this Sunday on the larger work of the church.

Civilian Charged In Army Thefts

WINNIPEG, June 6 (CP)—Five charges involving the theft of $5,300 worth of army and civilian goods from the army base at Churchill, Man., have been laid against Robert Frank Martin, former employee of a construction firm on defense projects, army officials announced today.

Martin was released on his own recognizance and will appear June 17 before Magistrate Neil MacKay at Churchill.

Liner Due For Checkup After Crash

QUEBEC, June 6 (CP). — The Cunard liner Scythia is due here early Saturday for a precautionary checkup to determine how badly she was damaged in a collision Thursday with a collier in the Gulf of St. Lawrence.

The 19,000-ton Scythia, steaming up the St. Lawrence River under her own power, is expected between 2 and 3 a.m., E.D.T., Saturday, a Cunard official said.

Meanwhile, the 7,200-ton Wabana, in tow of the tug Rocky River, is not expected before tomorrow night, signals service said.

The collision, in fogbound weather in the Gulf of St. Lawrence, resulted in the death of a Wabana crew member. The collier also suffered damage to her propeller and rudder.

The Scythia, which left Quebec Wednesday with 800 passengers bound for England, appears to have suffered little damage.

A Cunard official said that if examination tomorrow shows the Scythia can resume her voyage, it is hoped the liner can leave during the week end.

Eight Lepers In Canada On Two Islands

OTTAWA, June 6 (CP). — Canada now has a total of eight lepers—two less than last year—whom she maintains at two coastal colonies at a cost of about $20,000 a year, Health Minister Martin said today.

He told Commons it costs $7,450 a year to maintain the colony at Bentick Island in British Columbia where three leper patients live and $14,703 to maintain the other at Tracadie, N.B., where there are five patients.

The information was given by the minister during discussion of his departmental estimates.

George Murray (L., Cariboo) said the increased traffic across the Pacific "may well expose us to the dangers of this sort of disease."

He commended the minister for closely watching "persons landing on these shores from the Pacific."

R.C.A.F. Plans School For Ground Defense

OTTAWA, June 6 (CP).—The R.C.A.F. will open a ground defense school at its station at Camp Borden, Ont., this month to train instructors for the Air Force's role of defending its air fields from ground attack, Air Force Headquarters announced today.

Indians Gain in Fight Against TB

OTTAWA, June 6 (CP)—Canada's Indian population is fighting a winning battle against tuberculosis.

Health Minister Martin said today in the Commons that the tuberculosis death rate among Indians has dropped 45 per cent during the last five years.

He spoke during consideration of his department's 1952-53 estimates.

During the discussion, he made these points:

The "greatest care" is exercised in examination of persons wanting to emigrate to Canada.

A $400,000 virus laboratory soon will be built in Ottawa, to specialize in research on the poliomyelitis group of viruses.

Regulations are being prepared which will make it obligatory for bakers to indicate in wrappings the whole wheat flour content of brown bread.

The Eskimos are no longer a disappearing race; their population is increasing about 1½ per cent each year.

Mr. Martin said the health program among Indians has not by any means solved the problem of the scourge of tuberculosis among Indians, but progress is being made.

In 1946 the tuberculosis death rate per 100,000 of population was 579.1 among Indians, 41.9 among whites and for all Canada was 47.4. Figures for 1948 were 480.1 for Indians, 32.1 for white and 37 for all Canada, he said.

By 1950 this had been reduced to 298.8 for Indians, 22 for white and 25.9 for all Canada.

As for Eskimos, he commented it is somewhat more difficult to reach them, but it is known that their population is increasing.

The labeling of brown bread was raised by Stanley Knowles (C.C.F., Winnipeg North Centre). He said that some brown bread actually is white bread dyed brown. He did not wish to suggest that the dye is harmful, but people thought they were getting whole wheat bread when actually they were getting white bread.

Mr. Martin, who has trimmed 30 pounds off his weight by dieting, said he had learned by experience that not all brown bread is non-fattening.

Regulations now being drafted will make it necessary for labels to show the whole wheat content of brown bread.

SATURDAY, JUNE 7, 1952

The Island Highway

GENERAL PEARKES' efforts in Ottawa to have the Dominion government examine the manifest advantages of a separate route for Victoria's new Island Highway outlet may yet save the British Columbia government from the folly of its "single spout" plan for the Island Highway, the West Coast Road and the airport highway. Because the new road up-Island will form part of the Trans-Canada Highway, British Columbia cannot proceed with the project without approval by the federal authorities, unless it is prepared to forfeit the dollar-for-dollar contribution provided under the agreement between the Dominion and the provinces.

The provincial government's proposal now being studied in Ottawa ignores the desirability—indeed, the absolute necessity—of a wholly separate route for the Island Highway to relieve it of unrelated traffic and prevent it from being congested by purely local transportation. Armed services as well as civilian considerations enter into this, because of the volume of military traffic carried now by the West Coast Road and its tributaries, and the certainty that this will be multiplied with the expansion of defense installations in this region.

No one understands better than General Pearkes, a wartime commander-in-chief of the Pacific area, the vital importance of road communications in organization for defense. He has urged the federal government to study from the viewpoints of both military and civilian requirements the advantages of having the Island Highway follow a direct route from the outskirts of the city to a point north of Langford Lake. It is to be hoped that this eminently sensible recommendation will prevail over the short-sighted and impractical proposal of the provincial government, which would fall far short of meeting the needs of present-day traffic movement and safety, let alone those of a few years hence.

Marking the Ballot

WHETHER or not the new transferable vote system will do what it is designed to accomplish, spread the legislative seats in fairer ratio to the votes cast, will not be known until all the ballots are counted right down to the bottom names. What does seem an immediate possibility on voting day, however, is a fairly high percentage of spoiled ballots. Most people, even including those of radical tendencies are hard to change in their personal habits.

For this reason it was a mistake to retain in the election act the "X" that has been associated with all previous elections. This has added to the chances of confusion, but voters may ensure the validity of their ballots if they remember that where an "X" is used the figure "1" should not be used. Either of these symbols may be used to mark the first preference, but not both of them, nor can either be used to indicate any alternative choice.

The wisest plan for electors would be to ignore the "X" altogether and concentrate on marking the ballot with numerals only, "1, 2, 3, 4" and so on. If this practice is followed carefully the chances of error will be greatly reduced, and voters will not then have made a fruitless visit to the polling booth. A voter is not compelled to go all down the line of candidates with his pencil, although to make full use of his ballot he should do just this, but no matter how many votes are cast the safe method is to stick to numerals.

One's Own Mind

IN a time when men's mouths are open as often than their ears, there is a good deal of parroting of the opinions of others without the reflection necessary to make those views either assimilated or convincing. Of course during a general election this trend is intensified, but it does not rest on that. This is a talkative, rather than a thoughtful, age. Listeners are rare. True conversation—which should be an even exchange between parties, lags; while opinions appear to vary with the days of the week. Thus no one is really surprised if men change their views almost with their suits, and pay just as much attention to the delicate art of keeping them "in fashion." This surrender of individuality all too easily paves the way for those who would trade on "the group mind," a besetting human weakness.

It was Rudyard Kipling who said: "At any price that I can afford to pay let me own myself." That is the inherent responsibility of every individual, to own a personality and to be a human being in his own right. Moreover, it serves best for the individual in those multitudinous choices which life presents daily, if not hourly. No one can "think" satisfactorily for anyone else, and yet how loath are men in these times to do their own thinking. An election is one time when humanity is under some necessity to reflect and to think things through; to go to the polls in their own person and not merely in the borrowed mental image of anyone else. The secrecy and the freedom of the ballot, for which blood was shed in the not-too-distant past, are alike meaningless unless the elector has a mind of his own and uses it.

LIQUOR PLEBISCITE

Sir,—Swedish scientists, after exhaustive tests, have established that ability to drive deteriorates 25 to 30 per cent after drinking three bottles of beer. This partial loss of control gives a false sense of self-confidence that tends to drive at reckless speeds, coupled with a certain impairment of vision.

These conclusions are amply substantiated by United States and Canadian police records. In particular they prove that the great menace is the driver who, though not actually drunk, is deceived by that "feeling good" condition caused by a few drinks, and takes dangerous chances.

On June 12 we shall decide whether spirituous liquor, which impairs judgment more rapidly than beer, will be sold in licensed premises.

(MRS.) REBECCA PHILLIPS.
2593 Cook Street, Victoria, B.C.

LIQUOR PLEBISCITE

Sir,—On June 12 the people of British Columbia will be asked in a plebiscite to express their views for or against legislation to permit the serving of liquor and wines in reputable hotels and restaurants. This is a very vital issue and one, I believe, which will be voted on definitely and intelligently by the public.

As a hotel proprietor, I may be charged with selfish interest, but I maintain that this question should be viewed, without rancor, in the broadest light possible.

Most people realize the inadequacy of the present system governing the consumption of liquor, and any person who views this question thoughtfully and dispassionately realizes the evils and inequalities of the allegedly restrictive measures now in force.

The whole system is out of line. Why should the issue of sensible drinking be forced underground?

Many people in this city and throughout the province belong to clubs where they pay from $100 to $500 to become members and be served at any time with all the liquor they care to consume. Compare this with the status of the ordinary man who is not in a position to afford or even spare the time to enjoy these privileges. In order to keep within the requirements of the law, he is forced to take a room in a hotel if he desires to entertain friends, and he has no option but to provide a full bottle to show he is a good fellow.

Then again, the man who is not so particular in respect of the law governing these matters, may be inclined to take a surreptitious drink in much less desirable places.

Most people know that the regulations governing drinking are winked at on every hand. You have only to go to a supper dance to find a bottle under many tables, and, in some cases it brazenly decorates the top.

Contrast this with the position of the man on the street who drops into a Chinese restaurant and unfortunately is caught taking a drink. What happens? An answer is unnecessary.

As a hotelman, I can speak with authority on drinking habits in hotel rooms. Drinking can go unchecked, provided the liquor is purchased from a licensed vendor, but what happens when the legally available supply runs out? With the liquor stores closed, the inevitable tendency is to do business with the bootlegger.

ALTERNATIVE VOTE

Sir,—An alternative vote, like daylight saving, is a fond conceit that assumes to make black white and vice versa. There can be no alternative to persons who are rigidly determined on the one person they desire to represent them. Those persons with one belief will mark one and only one against their choice, they have no use for any alternative. On the other hand you have hundreds of uncertain people, who at the last minute cannot make up their minds; this is a well-known fact. So it places the result of such an election in the hands of those who cannot make up their minds till the last minute who to vote for. To these, the alternative vote will be a godsend. And the government so elected will be in actuality representative of that section of the people who have been indefinite and could not make up their minds.

The Gingerbread House

Canada's Opportunity

By FRANK KELLEY

RETURNING home to Glasgow following what the U.K. press stated had been a goodwill tour of Canada and the United States, Sir Victor Warren, Lord Provost of the great shipbuilding port, was credited with saying publicly he would like to see all of one million Britons migrate to Canada within the next two years. The speaker felt certain it could be done, as the need really existed, and there was every reason to presume from what he saw and heard that number of emigrants would be assimilated without upsetting the tenor of Canada's industrial growth or its bid for prosperity.

About the same time another scheme suggesting a method through which Canada's population and industrial future would be assured, was voiced in the Mother Land. It was to the effect that one or more Old Country communities, knowing the how of producing certain wanted lines of merchandise, might be transplanted entirely to some suitable area in this country and given some initial help, within reason of course, to test the possibilities of some such wholesale procedure.

* * *

Both the suggestions, at first glance anyway, seem to possess food for a lot of thought. It is not hard to imagine that Canada could do with a million, and more, Britons of the same mettle as those who had a big part in making Canada what it is today, as well as preparing it for the more or less prominent part it seems destined to play in future world affairs.

Within its vast domain, still waiting for the plough and the still unknown resources beneath its terrain, it would be a person of poor imagination who would venture to state this country would not be able to assimilate good British stock, particularly at this time when there is so much interest and real development apparent from British Columbia to Newfoundland; or that Canadian ingenuity of the present era could not be equal to the problems which might accompany a whole community necessary to re-stablish an old industry in a new land.

* * *

It will be altogether too bad if this land, so well fitted to be a home suitable for folk of European latitudes similar to our own, cannot produce leadership capable of handling both these suggestions to the lasting credit of Canada and their own accomplishments.

Knowing something of Canada from Newfoundland to the Queen Charlottes and having some conception of its vast acreage—particularly in the western portion still waiting for the pioneering spirit to convert the dormant lands into fertile fields and its under surface wealth into needed commodities for mankind—one (this one anyway) cannot read about such things as mass migrations and the transplanting of entire communities without wondering why the province of British Columbia has not made some efforts to populate certain parts of the people's heritage in recent years.

* * *

Time was when our legislators, even if they didn't make a go of it, spent some real money in placing settlers in certain sections, where they were left with promises. Take Vancouver Island, for instance, particularly beyond the E. & N. land grant. There are tracts of land which, with some attention, would provide prime agricultural prospects in a short time. Why not do something to open up these lands by putting some chosen people on them?

Gerald Waring

Reports From Ottawa

THE first time in years that the C.B.C. has invited a known Communist to address the Canadian people was last Sunday night, when Dr. Ales Bebler, the permanent Yugoslav delegate to the United Nations, was the national network's special speaker.

The reason Comrade Bebler was acceptable to the C.B.C. is, of course, that there are now Communists and Communists. There is the unfriendly majority who advocate the Russian brand of Communism, and the "friendly" Communists of Marshal Tito's Yugoslavia.

Bebler's talk was recorded during a recent visit to Ottawa, giving the C.B.C. a chance to check it before it was aired. Thus the C.B.C.'s action in opening the facilities to a Communist wasn't as daring as it seemed.

Actually Bebler didn't dwell on Communism. His main theme was Yugoslavia's struggle for national independence, first against the Germans, and now against the Russians. It was iced with the diplomat's customary kind references to the country which at the moment happens to be his host—an innocuous sort of talk which would have passed anti-Communist censorship even in Quebec.

* * *

I interviewed Bebler when he was in Ottawa, and got as concise and clear cut a definition of the differences between Russian Communism and Tito's folksy brand as any I've heard. Here it is—but if you feel the need of a little salt with it, you'll have to supply your own!

Communist domestic policy:

Stalin's—The maintenance of a powerful state as the basis of a continuing despotism of the bureaucracy over the nation.

Tito's—The creation of a state authority which in time withers away and disappears, leaving a bureaucracy, with no political power, to administer the affairs of the country.

Communist foreign policy:

Stalin's—The Marxist state has the right to expand because expansion means bringing the liberation of Marxist socialism to other peoples. This theory serves as a cover for Soviet imperialism.

Tito's—Recognition of the equality of nations and of each nation's sovereignty over its own territory as the basis for the amicable co-existence of democratic states.

READER R. M. Legate of Montreal writes he would like Canada to do more than parrot "She's Canada's queen too." Specifically he suggests helping pay for the coronation.

But here's the reaction of hard-headed M.P.'s who would have to vote the money:

"How would we justify it to the taxpayers?"

"Great Caesar! Haven't we done enough subsidizing the West Indies and keeping Britain solvent with a billion and a quarter loan?"

"We (meaning all Canadian governments and Canadians as a whole) spent several millions on our show last fall. The coronation is England's show."

"History's against it. George III turned over tremendous royal revenues to the British treasury in return for an annual allowance from Parliament, called the Civil List. The Canadian treasury didn't benefit."

"If the Queen would spend part of her time in Canada, we'd be glad to pay the cost."

Sorry, Mr. Legate. Looks like no sale.

"Something Different"

(From The Windsor Star)

ONE of the great attractions Canada has for United States tourists simply is that Canada is a "foreign" country. For many of them, coming to this country is the only opportunity they ever have of going outside their own. They get a thrill in crossing an international boundary and, when they have crossed it, they look for evidence they are in a different land.

Minister of Resources and Development Robert H. Winters made this point in his fine address to the Chamber of Commerce and Rotary Club joint meeting. It is one which too many Canadians either overlook entirely or interpret in reverse order. Accordingly they pander to the tourists by displaying United States flags, by calling tourists accommodations names reminiscent of Florida or California, by serving food cooked in the United States manner, and other such ways.

What they ignore is that if United States citizens were interested in seeing United States flags while on their vacations, or in other evidence of similarity to home, they would spend their holidays in their own country. They come to Canada to enjoy a different atmosphere, different attractions, different people.

Instead of pretending we are just the same people as they are, with the same traditions and way of life, etc., we should be emphasizing our distinctiveness. Then our visiting tourists would find what they seek when they cross the border—a different country, with many attributes of difference.

Being obsequious to our visitors is a sign of a national inferiority complex. It is commercialism of an abject and repugnant variety. And it's poor business, as Mr. Winters demonstrated so ably.

Fun, Fact and Fiction

An American soldier entered an English train compartment, where his only companion was an elderly man. The soldier took out a stick of gum and began to chew it. After half an hour the old man exclaimed: "It's no use chum; I'm stone deaf."

A young man had asked permission from his girl's parents to marry her. The father agreed immediately but the mother was not taken with the idea and did not approve. The next evening the boy was discussing the matter with the girl.

"I'm afraid mother is going to be a bit difficult," said the girl. "She thinks that because you're an actor, you're effeminate."

The boy thought for a moment.

"Well," he confessed, "compared with her, I suppose I am."

The Packsack

Of GREGORY CLARK

NATURE sometimes appears to be very foolish. At this time of year you will often hear in your garden a curiously low, furtive robin call, a single note, uttered at intervals of about five seconds. It is the warning note of a robin to its nestlings to keep still, or to its fledglings on the ground to [illegible] cat is about.

When you hear that low, mellow, single note, you can be perfectly sure to discover a cat in the immediate vicinity. In fact, you may find two or three cats. Because if there is anything calculated better to bring a cat in a hurry, it is that robin note advertising all over a whole city block that fledglings are on the ground somewhere within a few yards of the adult robin. Any intelligent cat can have robin chick for supper merely by scouting a very small area around the vocal parent.

Many other birds have alarm notes and warning calls, some of them so loud and strident as to be heard over a quarter of a mile; and, like hunters' horns, spreading the news far and wide that game is afoot. Every predator within hearing, the hawks, crows, weasels, prick up their ears at the sound, and come to the dinner call. You would suppose that nature, which gave the partridge, for example, the instinct to feign injury to coax enemies away from her nest, would have worked out across the ages a less fatal system than the broadcast outcry of many of the most delicate creatures.

Nature, however, is seldom foolish. For we are wrong to suppose that nature is interested solely in robins and other attractive species. There is no reason whatever for believing that nature is any less interested in weasels, hawks, crows, than she is in robins, bluebirds and sandpipers. And when you hear a robin uttering its fatuous warning call, it is merely nature thinking kindly of cats.

Nation of Chatterboxes

CANADIANS seem to have built up a national character for themselves which patterns them as rather mute creatures, not given to much expression. They are seen as rather dour, certainly not the ones for chitchat.

This is a complete fallacy, of course, a misinterpretation of character with no relation to truth. The fact is Canadians are a nation of chatterboxes. Lest there be any doubt about this, refer please to figures released recently by the Dominion bureau of statistics.

The bureau estimates that in 1950 Canadians spent 36 hours each in telephone conversation.

How the bureau pulls such straight-laced facts out of the air is not to be questioned of course. One must assume the method infallible. As a matter of fact, spot checks on switchboards are made every three or four days. According to Bell Telephone Co., these checks give a quite accurate estimate of the number of calls placed. The bureau estimates that more than 5,000,000,000 telephone calls were made in 1950, which works out to an average of 1,718 calls per telephone. At an average of three minutes per call, this works out to 36 hours on the telephone for every Canadian in 1950.

This is a frightening sidelight. The picture is even gloomier if one considers that the bureau certainly did not strain itself when it placed the average call at three minutes. (This estimate does not include interoffice phoning through privately-installed switchboards.)

The estimate could not have taken into account the interminable conversations of the woman shopping by phone from the mid-season flyer; the hours consumed in teenage conversation; the time on the phone spent by club workers.

Apart from that, it could give no clue either to the hours spent in waiting to get through for telephone calls. The estimate gives no hint of ticking minutes endured ("one moment, please") trying to get any doctor in his office or at the hospitals; waiting for a free line to the chamber of commerce or the wheat pool; a food phone at almost any large grocery store, or anyone in any government department.

One is quite sure if this time were added to the 36 hours a Canadian spends at his telephone yearly, the results would (or ought to) be enough to strike most of them quite dumb.

—Regina Leader-Post.

"What Is Hope?"

What is hope? A smiling rainbow
Children follow through the wet;
'Tis not here, still yonder, yonder;
Never urchin found it yet.

What is life? A thawing iceboard
On a sea with sunny shore—
Gay we sail; it melts beneath us;
We are sunk and seen no more.

What is man? A foolish baby
Vainly strives, and fights, and frets;
Demanding all, deserving nothing—
One small grave is what he gets.

Banner Ban Bothers Oak Bay P.C. Party

A little steam is beginning to rise from the political scene in Oak Bay riding where Progressive Conservative party members say they were refused permission to put up banners.

Reeve P. A. Gibbs of Oak Bay is Liberal candidate for the provincial riding in the coming elections.

The P.C.'s said as a result they put banners up urging support of P.C. candidate Herbert Anscomb, former provincial finance minister, at the intersections of Oak Bay Avenue and Foul Bay Road and Fort Street and Foul Bay Road—just inside the Victoria city limits.

The Liberals quickly matched this move.

The banners are readily noticeable to persons traveling between Oak Bay and Victoria.

MORE TO STORY

But there was more to the story, P.C.'ers said. They pointed out Reeve Gibbs has placed three signs on the front of his Liberal headquarters in Oak Bay.

They said that was just as much a "clutter" and no more permission is Oak Bay than putting up banners.

The P.C. members also charged posters they had put up in Saanich "where they are allowed," had been later covered over with Liberal posters.

Oak Bay Liberals, meanwhile, are reported seeking permission to drop leaflets on the municipality.

Phone Firm Plans Survey

Survey of the federal government's telephone system is being carried out by the British Columbia Telephone Co. following a recent announcement by the government that it wants to hand over its telephone and telegraph system to commercial communication companies.

The announcement of the government move is a result of current industrial expansion in the area it serves.

The survey of telephone requirements will cover both the physical plant and the commercial possibilities of various areas in the province.

J. R. Lidster, assistant outside plant engineer, and Stan Patterson, engineering assistant, will appraise the physical plant, T. E. Pennington, survey and forecast supervisor, the commercial survey.

The government system, which includes both telephone and telegraph service, takes in much of the west coast of Vancouver Island, upper part of the east coast, some islands between Vancouver Island and the Mainland, the Sechelt Peninsula, and through the Cariboo area to central B.C. and west to the Coast.

Father of Victoria Woman, Col. Hayter Dies in U.K.

A veteran of three wars, Col. H. R. Hayter, father of Miss W. D. Hayter, 557 Falkland Road, died in England recently, it was learned here yesterday.

Born in India, he came to this country as a boy and was educated at Upper Canada College, Toronto, and Royal Military College, Kingston.

He served in the Boer War and in the First World War, where he received the Distinguished Service Order from the late King George V.

During the Second World War he was on home guard duty at Burghclere Newbury, his home in England.

Man Admits Impersonating Officer

Clarence Billett, 1569 Foul Bay Road, appeared in city police court yesterday to plead guilty to a charge of impersonating a police officer. Richard Ellis appeared as counsel for the accused, who was remanded until Friday, Billett was charged following a incident in which he allegedly took an 18-year-old Victoria girl, drove her about the city for more than an hour, then took her to her home. He had represented himself as a police officer.

Randolph W. Tervo, 1428 Wende, was remanded until June 10 on a charge involving infraction of income tax regulations. The city businessman's income tax trouble covered the past several years. City prosecutor Allan Bigelow said $200 was the minimum fine for such an offense.

Magistrate H. C. Hall was informed the accused had already paid a 5 per cent penalty on the income tax amount involved. He asked for a report on how much of a penalty Tervo had already paid.

In the World Of Religion

BY ARCHDEACON F. GWYNNE LIGHTBOURN

The episcopal address of the bishops of the Methodist Church in the United States to their quadrennial general conference stated that the most significant movement of modern religious history [illegible] ecumenical church. Noting that some Christian bodies fear the possibility of a centralized hierarchy, which would destroy the independence and vitality of the member churches, the bishops go on to point out that there is no conflict between denominational loyalty and the ecumenical ideal, and that "the best way we can serve the Church Universal is to serve with intelligence and devoted loyalty the church to which we belong."

Speaking at the Free Church federal council congress at Cardiff, Wales, Dr. Hugh Martin, vice-president of the British Council of Churches, described the disunity of Christendom as "a dreadful situation, accepted only because we have got used to it." Acknowledging the great improvement in relations between the Church of England and the free churches, Dr. Martin paid warm tribute to the present Archbishop of Canterbury for his leadership in the matter. He added: "We too hold firmly to the necessity for apostolic succession in the Church of Christ, but in our view it depends upon the possession of the apostolic faith, and not upon keeping the apostolic faith, and not upon keeping the apostolic form of government, even if scholars could agree as to what that was."

The union of two Presbyterian congregations in San Francisco has attracted nation-wide attention in the United States. Hope Church has been composed of Negroes and Westminster Church of whites. The combined congregation will carry the name Westminster and the first pastor is Rev. Wesley L. Hawes, a Negro, with the Rev. O. E. Chadsey, white, as his assistant. The Christian Century comments: "In a city which has not always been a symbol of friendly relations between races, this . . . may mark the beginning of a trend."

Exercising his peculiar prerogative, which he rarely employs, the Archbishop of Canterbury has conferred the degree of Master of Arts on Robert S. Godfrey, who has been on the staff of Lincoln Cathedral for 50 years. For his work in preserving the fabric in the years 1921-1937, Mr. Godfrey was made a C.B.E. by the late King.

The distinction of being the first bishop of two new Canadian dioceses has fallen to Most Rev. Edward Q. Jennings, who after serving as the Roman Catholic Command Chaplain of the R.C.A.F. at Winnipeg became the Bishop of Kamloops, when that see was established in 1946. A new Diocese of Fort William is now in process of formation, and the appointment of Dr. Jennings as its bishop has just been announced.

The total number of foreign missionaries of the Protestant churches of the United States and Canada now exceeds 15,000, an all-time high. In 1925 the number was 13,555, and in 1936 it was 11,151. Twenty-five per cent of the present missionaries are in Africa, south of the Sahara, 25 per cent in Latin America, and the remainder in North Africa and the Far East.

Victoria Welcoming Mormon Dignitaries

Two leading Mormon churchmen were due in Victoria today for conferences here that will complete a three-week tour of Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia.

The two are Elder Clifford E. Young and president R. Scott Zimmerman of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints. They were scheduled to meet with Vancouver Island missionaries of their church at 2 p.m. today at the Y.M.C.A. and with members of the Victoria branch at Kings Road Hall at 7.30 p.m. Sunday.

Mr. Young is visiting the Western Canada mission as a representative of the General Authorities of the Church. He is assistant to the Council of Twelve Apostles, and since 1905 has served in the United Kingdom [illegible] church, as one-time president of the Alpine Stake of the Church.

He was also a member of the Utah senate for five years.

Mr. Zimmerman is now serving as president of the Western Canada mission. He is a graduate of Brigham Young College and has served in the Swiss-German mission and as president of the Big Cottonwood Stake of the Church.

He was with the United States department of the interior for 32 years.

Soldier Falls On Grenade, Only Bruised

TOKYO, June 6 (Reuters). — The United States army told today how an American soldier dropped on a Communist grenade to save his comrades, and was "hardly bruised" by the explosion.

Pfc. Emile Pinard was wearing the army's experimental nylon vest armor at the time.

A 45th Division report of the action said Pinard was on patrol in no-man's-land with three other soldiers when the Communist grenade dropped at their feet and they hit the deck.

Pinard said later: "I found myself next to the grenade. I couldn't move away because someone was lying next to me, so I rolled on it. It would have got me anyway."

The report said he was blasted three feet into the air and knocked unconscious. A three-inch piece of steel ripped into the vest and bent his dog-tags double, but he was only bruised.

Many U.S. soldiers have been issued with the eight-pound vests on a trial basis.

Motorists Campaign For Cheaper License

Harry Duker, president of the B.C. Automobile Association, said yesterday he had written to every candidate in every riding "and they all agree something must be done to relieve the tax burden of the motorists."

Association members said they were asking the motorist to support a drive for reduced taxes by informing candidates in the ridings that "the motoring public expects you to support the reduction in license fee if you are elected."

"We want a $10 license fee in B.C." said Clarke Simpkins, B.C.A.A. director. "Only in this way can we broaden the use of the motor vehicle to the extent the public wants. . . ."

The situation moved Mr. Duker to invent a rhyming slogan.

"A $10 license fee in 1953 will make every motorist as happy as he can be," he said.

Missionary Editor To Be Heard Here

The story of missionary work among the sufferers of leprosy, or Hansen's disease, will be told to congregations of two city churches Sunday.

Rev. Harold C. Etter, general secretary of the International Christian Leprosy Mission, who has recently visited India, China and the Philippines doing this type of work, will address the congregations of the Lake Hill Mission Sunday morning and the Free Methodist Church in the evening.

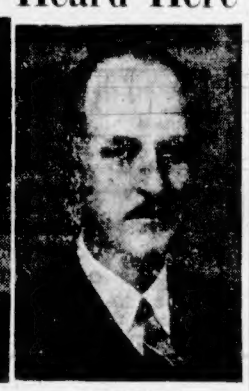

Mr. Etter will show color movies and slides of the trip that took him through 43,000 miles of the Orient.

He will also speak to audiences at the Missionary Alliance Hall at 8 p.m. Monday, and the North Douglas Tabernacle at 8 p.m. Tuesday.

Rev. Harold U. Trinier will speak at First Baptist Church Sunday evening. Editor of Canadian Baptist Magazine, Mr. Trinier has been a Baptist leader in Canada for many years and has been editor of the denominational paper for the Baptist convention of Ontario and Quebec and the Baptist Union of Western Canada.

Liquor Case Costs Youth $300 Fine

A 23-year-old Shawnigan Lake youth yesterday was fined $300, or in default, three months imprisonment, after pleading guilty to supplying liquor to minors.

Charged in provincial police court was Gerald Raby, who was arrested about two weeks ago in the View Royal area. In the car he was driving at the time were [illegible] and two 16-year-old girls. The two companions have already appeared before a provincial court on liquor consuming charges.

The girls had not been drinking, R.C.M.P. reported.

Liquor involved was a combination of wine and beer. Raby had purchased the liquor in Duncan, court was told.

Thomas W. Cleough of Duncan was fined $25 and $1.50 costs by Magistrate A. O. Thomas, after being found guilty of a careless driving charge.

WITHOUT BRAKES

On May 23, driving a car with no brakes, the accused had been responsible for forcing a truck off the highway the court was told. The occurrence took place in a Tunnel Hill area in which R.C.M.P. were directing traffic immediately after another accident.

He told the magistrate he had been driving on British Columbia roads for the past 25 years without a mishap of any kind.

Pleading guilty to a charge of passing another car on a section of the Island Highway marked with a solid line, Denis Joseph Beauluk, 1048 Queens Avenue, was fined $10 and $3.00 costs.

Steven S. Bligh, 716 Lampson Street, was found guilty on a charge of consuming liquor in a public place on the night of June 1 in the Luxton area and was given a suspended sentence. He had to pay $6.50 court costs.

Report Denied Rope Factory Planned Here

A denial of the report that British Ropes Canadian Factory Ltd., included a new factory in its present expansion plans in British Columbia was given to Robert S. O'Meara, B.C. trade commissioner, by officials of the company in Vancouver yesterday.

The report, not published in The Daily Colonist, said that an announcement had been made from London, England, on Thursday that British Ropes, which has a factory in Vancouver, was building a second factory in Victoria to take care of rapidly expanding business.

"Officials of British Ropes know nothing about such an announcement from London," said Mr. O'Meara, "but it is possible that the cable was referring to the new factory which is being built at present on Grandview Highway in Vancouver."

British Ropes Canadian Factory Ltd. intends to spend $1,500,000 on new factory development in B.C., but under present plans this development will all be in the Vancouver area.

On Vancouver Island, additional storage space for their products is being provided by the Island distributors of British Ropes.

UNWISE OWLS

PORTAGE LA PRAIRIE, Man. (CP)—Great horned owls may have a place in nature's scheme, but that place is not among the ducks in the Island Park Sanctuary here. Four owls raiding the ducks shortly after they had been placed on the park pond were all trapped and peace reigned again.

Cleveland Indians moved two games in front in the American League and Brooklyn Dodgers built their National League lead to four games by victories in last night's major league games.

Cleveland Indians routed Philadelphia Athletics 11-4 while Detroit Tigers took a 4-2 decision from the second-place Boston Red Sox.

Brooklyn staved off a four-run ninth-inning rally by Cincinnati and edged the Reds 6-4. Meanwhile second-place New York Giants were drubbed by the last-place Pittsburgh Pirates 8-1.

Second baseman Bobby Avila was the hitting star in Cleveland's win. Avila paced a 14-hit attack with four safeties, one of which was his second home run of the year, as he drove in five tallies. Al Rosen also homered for Cleveland and Joe Tipton got a round-tripper for the Athletics.

DEAL HELPS TIGERS

Former Bostonians Walt Dropo and Don Lenhardt made the Detroit end of this week's $1,000,000 deal look good as they knocked in all the Tiger runs—each belting his eighth homer of the year.

It was the first encounter between the clubs since their nine-man swap.

Big Dropo had a perfect night at the plate, including a homer. He was walked twice—once purposely—and doubled home Fred Hatfield, another ex-Red Sox player, in the eighth. Lenhardt blasted a Bill Henry pitch off the left-field screen in the fourth, scoring Steve Souchock, who had doubled, ahead of him.

BUCS MASTER MAGLIE

The Pirates solved Sal Maglie's magic and handed the New York ace his second defeat against nine victories. Maglie had beaten the Pirates in 13 consecutive games but he was lifted in the fifth for a pinch hitter after Pittsburgh had run up a 5-1 lead. The Giants' lone run off pitcher Murry Dickson was Bobby Thomson's homer in the third. Tony Bartirome, rookie first baseman, led the Pirate attack with three hits, two of them doubles.

Preacher Roe gained credit for his fifth win without a loss in the Brooks' victory although he needed help in the ninth from Balack. The result ended the Reds' three-game winning streak.

Next game, Sunday: Pitzer & Nex vs. Chinese Students, Central Park, 2.30.

Pitzer & Nex, like Old Man River, just keep rolling along.

The Gasmen racked up their fifth straight win in the Senior "A" Men's Softball League by trouncing B.C. Forest Products, 9-2, at upper Central last night.

Gasmen now lead the Millmen and Butler's Aces, who are tied for second, by three games and have shown every indication in recent games that they are going to be tough to knock off of the coveted top rung.

Continuing to hit hard and getting another fine pitching chore from Ken Gunter, Pitzer & Nex proved once again its ability to come up with that big inning.

Gasmen banged 11 of their 12 hits off starter Bud Ross and bunched all their scoring in the second and sixth innings.

Winners put together five runs on four hits and a walk in the second and the Millmen were never in the game after that. Bernie Clarkson's triple was the big blow, scoring Bill Reynolds and Ken Gunter, who had both singled.

Ross got along well until the sixth, when the winners broke loose for their final four runs. Four singles, together with a pair of outfield miscues, proved the downfall of Ross and the big righthander retired in favor of Cy Guest. Guest shut the door from there, limiting the winners to one hit.

Products' only runs came in the bottom of the fifth on three hits and an error to catcher Les Wilson.

Charlie Sansbury was the leading sticker for the Millmen with three blows, one of them a double, in four trips to the plate.

Few Catches Reported For Ladder

According to information received from secretary George Douglas last night, only 10 fish have been weighed in so far in the first week of the annual 10-week "ladder derby" being staged by the Victoria Saanich-Inlet Anglers' Association.

Although fishing in Saanich Inlet has not been good, derby entrants have a fine chance of qualifying for the August 24 fish-off if they can catch a salmon of any size during the early days of the derby. Forty qualifying berths are available each week with 400 anglers to compete in the fish-off for the five main prizes, topped by a $2,100 Chris-Craft express cruiser complete with a 25 horse-power outboard motor.

Lorne Heglin, with a 17½-pounder, and W. Heath, who brought in a two-and-half-pound salmon, were the only weigh-ins reported yesterday.

Rung holders to date in first week, which ends Tuesday evening, follow:

1—George Williams, 24 pounds.
2—Anne Heglin, 22 pounds.
3—Margaret Hall, 19¼ pounds.
4—Lorne Heglin, 17½ pounds.
5—R. N. Mattershead, 10¼ pounds.
6—Fred Curle, 9½ pounds.
7—George Girlon, 7¾ pounds.
8—L. Hobbis, 7 pounds.
9—Ed Cadillac, 3 pounds.
10—W. Heath, 2½ pounds.

No Greater Thrill

Although he still is long way from his sixth birthday, Tim Malvinczky already is ardent fisherman, but it's doubtful if he'll ever again get thrill that was his when out fishing recently near Glenmore Dam at Calgary. Using boy's rod he is holding in picture, Tim hooked 22-pound, 41-inch pike beside which he stands with such distinction. He hung onto it until help was forthcoming to land big fellow.—(CP photo.)

Jokers Trim Nanaimo To Tighten Standings

Showing all-round improvement, Jimmy Little's Jokers handed Nanaimo Jets a 13-10 defeat at Memorial Arena last night to tighten the standings in the Greater Victoria Senior "B" Lacrosse League.

Backed by a strong performance by Roy Gallop in goal, Jokers jumped into a 3-1 lead in the first quarter and extended it to 6-3 at the half. They matched goals with the up-Islanders in each of the final two quarters.

JETS MAKE BID

Entering the final period on the short end of a 10-7 count, Nanaimo made a strong bid to pull out the victory. Goals by Reg White and Clem Linford sandwiched a Joker tally by Bob Long to make it 11-9.

Angie Stewart and Bob Seens followed with goals for Jokers to virtually clinch the verdict and Don Sherry countered for Jets to wind up the scoring.

Undefeated Oak Bay juveniles suffered their first defeat of the season in the preliminary when they bowed to the junior Jokers, 10-7. The juveniles held a 6-5 lead at the half.

Line-ups follow:

Gard Tames Broncs For Fourth Victory In Masterful Job

HOW THEY STAND	W	L	Pct.	GB

It was only two weeks ago that Eric Gard walked into Reg Patterson's office at Royal Athletic Park, a free agent and willing to sign with Victoria Tyees. The hefty business manager was faced with the problem of already having one more veteran than the league limit of nine, but he found a place for the Duncan southpaw.

It has turned out to be one of his best moves this season.

Last night Gard found himself pitted against Bob Schulte, ace southpaw of the Lewiston Broncs, with the Tyees in a bit of a slump with only two victories in their last seven starts and their league lead cut to two games.

Schulte, who had won three of his four decisions and only recently a 16-strikeout winner over Vancouver Capilanos, put up the expected stern opposition by holding the Tyees to four hits. But Gard, a cool customer, came out to pitch his best game and hung on to win a thriller, 3-2, and give his club a three-game lead once again as the Caps trimmed Spokane to help out.

It was Gard's fourth start, his fourth route-going job and his fourth victory. He has pitched 36 innings, given up 29 hits and held opposing teams to 10 runs, not all of them earned. One must presume he has made the team.

Last night's was one of the season's best games, a tense mound duel which wasn't decided until the eighth inning, when John Treece made amends for an error which set up Lewiston's two-run fifth inning by singling in Lilio Marcucci with the tie-breaker.

Gard gave up five hits, including a dubious double in the ninth which Granny Gladstone over-ran and was in far less trouble than has been the case in his first three starts. He left the bags loaded in the second, bore down in the fifth after Treece's bad throw to stop a threatening situation, and left the tying run on third in the ninth by striking out Don Lundberg with a beautiful dropping curve.

Schulte ran afoul of some more loose fielding by his shaky infield, which gave the Tyees two unearned runs, but he also helped in his own downfall by walking seven Tyees and hitting two others. All three Victoria run scorers reached the bags with a base on balls.

On the other hand, Gard received sterling support from his mates. Gladstone made a spectacular diving catch of Milt Smith's curving line drive in the [illegible] inning when he went deep into the shortstop hole to his right for a dangerous bounder and forced a runner at third, and Luther Branham came up with a fine double play throw in the sixth to wipe out one of the two Broncs to reach base in the last four innings. Gard faced only 15 batters in the last four and two-thirds innings.

The series continues today with games in the afternoon and evening. Cal McIrvin and Jehosie Heard have been nominated by manager Cec Garriott to face the Broncs in that order. Dale Thomason, college star from the Eastern Washington College of Education, and Cal Humphries, former Seattle high school star, were named by Lewiston manager Bill Brenner.

* * *

DIAMOND DUST: Garriott shook up his batting order again last night, moving Don Pries up to hit behind lead-off man Jim Clark, dropping Bob Moniz to fifth, moving Granny Gladstone into the clean-up spot and Marcucci up to sixth place. With a lefthander working for the Broncs, Pries went back to first base and Branham moved into the line-up at second base, giving the Tyees eight batters swinging from the third-base side of the plate . . . Chuck Abernathy is expected to get back into action at first base today . . . Lewiston shortstop Milt Smith has reportedly played only one errorless game this season but the colored infielder can hit . . . If plans go through, it will be a manager's pitching battle at Spokane Sunday with Brenner facing Don Osborn . . . Marcucci, who sat on the Portland bench until he joined the Tyees and then was injured, is showing the effects of his lack of steady play but the big catcher will find the range soon . . . Close to 300 Victoria and Duncan youngsters in the Kiwanis Safety Patrol gave the Tyees a lot of vocal support last night and behaved themselves well . . . Umpire Ed Maslowski had an off night behind the plate and the Broncs protested bitterly that Treece was struck out before he stroked his game-winning single . . . And, as a gentle reminder, umpires should curb the profanity, which came loud and often last night.

W.I.L. Attendance Up 41 Per Cent

There was cheering news for W.I.L. clubs yesterday in the announcement by league-president Bob Abel that attendance up to June 1 showed a 41 per cent gain over last year despite bad weather which has kept crowds down and resulted in the postponement of many important games.

Abel disclosed that the total league attendance through games of May 31 was 193,640, a gain of 56,301 over last year when attendance at the same date was only 137,339.

On the basis of early attendance returns, the W.I.L. can be given a chance to reach the coveted goal of 1,000,000 paying customers once again. The schedule was almost one-quarter through at the end of May but attendance usually increases sharply with the improved summer weather. Also favorable is the fact that no club has yet emerged as an absolute standout and there appears to be every possibility of a good pennant race.

Spokane, as usual, leads with 41,109 but Victoria and Lewiston are responsible for much of the league gain. Victoria attendance is up more than 10,000 over 1951 while Lewiston's total of 24,704 is double that of Tacoma's figures of a year ago. Lewiston replaced Tacoma this season and is proving a surprise to those who forecast the Idaho town could not support Class "A" baseball.

Vancouver's attendance is 1,545 less than Victoria's but the Mainland metropolis has been plagued by half a dozen or more rainouts and better weather will see larger crowds. Yakima, normally a solid baseball town, has the poorest attendance, reflecting the last-place standing of the Bears.

Attendance to June 1:

Spokane	41,109
Victoria	26,859
Vancouver	25,314
Lewiston	24,704
Salem	21,401
Wenatchee	20,615
Tri-City	17,578
Yakima	15,759

VANCOUVER, June 6 (CP)—Coach Clary Jenion saw his North Shore Indians whip Nanaimo Native Sons 14-7 in an Intercity Lacrosse League game tonight—but he wasn't particularly elated about it.

"If that was lacrosse, then heaven help the game," he was heard to comment afterwards.

The crowd seemed to agree with him. By the fourth quarter, the majority of the 400 paying customers were on their way home.

The Native Sons tried hard, but they didn't seem to have what it takes. The Islanders didn't do too badly in the first half and walked off the floor holding a 5-4 lead. But that was the last time they were ahead.

With the Crema brothers — Lary and Mario—and Ed Bell showing the way, the Indians soon erased the one-goal deficit and by the time the third quarter ended were out front, 7-5.

The Indians really turned it on in the final 15 minutes, firing seven goals past Nanaimo netminder, Fred Fulla, who once again was given little protection by a sieve-like defence.

Larry Crema was the night's top marksman with four goals and two assists, Mario Crema and Ed Bell each checked in with three counters.

Following the contest, Nanaimo's coach, Lyle Scott, announced that he had signed Jack Thompson and Gill Davis, both of Foul Bay and that both boys would be in action tonight at Nanaimo when the Sons meet New Westminster Salmonacs.

Louise Brough Defeated At Manchester

MANCHESTER, England, June 6 (AP)—Louise Brough, three-time Wimbledon champion, was beaten on a grass court by an English player for the first time in her career today.

She lost 6-3, 6-8, 6-4 to Mrs. Jean Quertier Rinkel of the British Wightman Cup team in the semi-finals of the north lawn tennis championships.

Maureen Connolly of San Diego, Calif., won her way to the finals with a 6-2, 4-6, 6-0 decision over Mrs. Jean Walker-Smith, Britain's No. 1 player.

In the men's division, Frank Sedgman and Don Candy of Australia both whipped South Africans to gain the finals. Sedgman ousted Brian Woodroffe, 6-0, 6-8, 6-2, and Candy beat Nigel Cockburn, 8-6, 6-3.

ANNE REID

Comely member of Vancouver Electrical Workers' Club and outstanding candidate for women's sprint berth, Miss Reid is one of more than 80 entries received for Olympic preview meet at Victoria High School Gyro cinder track next Saturday. Entries have been received from Vancouver Olympic Club, New Westminster Olympic Club, Western Athletic Club, Pacific Athletic Club, Arctic Club, Lonsdale Club of North Vancouver, Esquimalt, Oak Bay and Victoria High Schools. Most of B.C.'s top athletes will be competing in final tune-up for provincial Olympic trials following week end.

Caps Trounce Indians, 13-3, Pass Lewiston

Vancouver Capilanos moved back into third place in the W.I.L. and dropped Spokane three games behind Victoria by blasting the Indians, 13-3, at Vancouver last night to square the four-game series at 1-1.

A 16-hit attack, led by Jim Wert, with a double and three singles, and Ray Tran, with three singles, overcame a 3-0 first-inning Spokane lead as Ed Locke coasted to an easy win. John Conant and Ed Murphy hit home runs for the losers.

Ed Satalich, gangling Tri-City righthander, pitched no-hit baseball for five innings at Salem but wound up a 5-2 loser to the Senators.

In the other game, a wild affair, Wenatchee Chiefs scored three runs in the ninth to force an extra inning and then added six more in the 10th to down Yakima's hapless Bears, 15-9. The game produced a total of 32 hits with the Bears taking a 9-6 lead by scoring seven runs in the sixth.

Four Golfers Share Lead In Ardmore Open Tourney

ARDMORE, Okla., June 6 (AP)—A tight struggle down the stretch developed today in the $15,000 Ardmore Open Golf tournament as four players tied for the lead after today's second round over the Dornick Hills Country Club Course.

Heading the pack into tomorrow's semi-finals were Shelley Mayfield of Cedarhurst, N.Y., Al Besselink, Ralph Blomquist, and Julius Boros.

Boros thrilled the gallery of 2,500 when he came in late with a four under par 66. This kept him in the chase for first money of $5,400—a stipend made possible by the generosity of Mr. and Mrs. Waco Turner, the golf loving sponsors of Oklahoma's first major professional tournament since 1945.

Boros, working to better an opening-round 71, accomplished it with nines of 33-33. The Dornick Hills par is 34-36—70 over 6,483 yards of rolling hills and tricky greens.

UNUSUAL HOLE

Toney Penna was one of several players who had an unfortunate experience with Dornick Hills' famed "cliff hole."

Penna, after an opening round 69 went five-over par with a 75, taking nine on this 53-yard par-five 16th hole. A solid rock wall about 40 feet high and 150 feet long guards the green and it takes an accurate lofty iron shot to clear the obstacle. The ball bounces back down the hill if the shot isn't high enough. Bolt and Skee Reigel were others who saw their scores skyrocket on this hole, each taking two over par sevens.

Tyees Best With Bats, Improved Defensively

Latest official W.I.L. statistics, which include games through last Monday, disclose that Victoria Tyees lead the league in hitting and that the league leaders have picked up defensively.

The Tyees, boasting a solid .288 team batting average, lead in runs scored, doubles and stolen bases and are second in hits and total bases to Lewiston. However, the Broncs had played four extra games when the figures were compiled.

AVERAGE 14 BASES

Broken down, the figures show the Tyees are scoring an average of almost seven runs a game on an average of 10 hits and nearly 14 total bases. Coincident with improved defensive work, the Victoria club shows a reduction in the number of runs scored by opponents. The Tyees are allowing an average of 4.82 runs per game, the Vancouver Capilanos are allowing 4.33, the Spokane Indians 4.19, the Salem Senators 4.37.

Defensively, the Tyees have boosted their team average five points to .953 in a week and are fifth in double plays with 39 for their first 39 games.

Salem Senators are the best defensive club with a flossy .971 team fielding average and 53 double plays in the first 43 games.

Individual records show that Mel Wasley, veteran Spokane outfielder, has taken over the batting lead with .371, followed by Victoria-manager Cec Garriott at .359 and Wenatchee-catcher Walt Pocekay at .358.

Wasley also leads in runs batted in with 40, Garriott is tops in runs scored and doubles, with 43 and 15, respectively, and Pocekay leads in total bases with 84. Yakima-outfielder Bill Andring leads in hits with 61, Victoria's Bob Moniz and Tri-City's Vic Buccola are tied for the stolen-base lead with 13, Vancouver-catcher John Ritchet leads in triples with five, and Victoria's Granny Gladstone and Lewiston's Artie Wilson and Charlie Mead are tied for the home run lead with four each.

Cal McIrwin, Victoria southpaw, leads the pitchers with a 6-0 record with teammate Eric Gard undefeated also but with only three wins. Frank Dasso, veteran Wenatchee righthander, leads in strikeouts with 63 with Victoria's Ben Lorino and Spokane's John Marshall next with 56. Salem's Bob Collins has walked 61 batters and teammate Ray McNulty leads in complete games with nine and in innings pitched with 94.

Tyee Bill Wisneski shares with Yakima's Bill Stites the unenviable mark of hitting nine batters and Tom DelSarto, Yakima, has uncorked nine wild pitches. Bob Roberts, Spokane, Adolph Satalich, Tri-City, and Larry Powell, Lewiston, have appeared in the most games—15.

Survey Favors Purge To Restore Sportsmanship to English Fields

LONDON, June 6 (CP).—The true spirit of British sportsmanship, for centuries regarded as the hallmark of everything that is fine and chivalrous, is under direct attack by none other than British sports fans themselves.

A country-wide-poll that reached far beyond such sanctums of fair-[illegible] as Lord's cricket ground and the playing fields of Eton, has brought this verdict about the modern trend of sport in the United Kingdom:

1. Sportsmanship is definitely on the decline.

2. Fan behavior, especially at soccer, rugby and hockey matches, as well as at professional boxing bouts, has deteriorated greatly within recent years.

3. The [illegible] is imbued with a win-at-all-costs attitude and is more ignorant than his counterpart of other years.

BROAD SURVEY

The canvass conducted by London's mass circulation Sunday Express, covered a cross-section of the country's sport followers, from top executives to the little guy who pays his 25 cents for the privilege of speaking his mind from the open terraces at a soccer match:

Majority of those questioned deplored the change which during the soccer season just ended brought several incidents where referees had to be given police protection against irate fans. Worse still, Bronx cheers have even been heard at top-flight cricket matches—in the average Englishman's book an unpardonable breach of etiquette.

There was general agreement that the days had gone when managers dropped players who brought discredit on their club or when team captains adhered to a strict code of sportsmanship and enforced rigid-discipline for its violation.

The call was well-nigh unanimous in favor of a purge which would clear the sport of the slightest taint of hooliganism, harsh heckling and rough play generally.

"ONE-EYED BIAS"

A Lancashire business executive charged that "one-eyed bias" among fans had been the main contributing factor in unsporting antics on the part of players. He suggested a penalty box, such as in ice hockey, should be introduced in major league soccer for punishment of offending players.

Others would go farther and authorize imposition of a stiff fine for a particularly glaring offence, such as a demonstration—not necessarily an attack—against an official.

R. Thompson, a London referee, laid down two golden rules for soccer:

(1) The referee's decision is final and should be acknowledged with respect;

(2) Spectators should make themselves better acquainted with the rules governing the particular game they are watching.

There was widespread agreement as well in favor of a campaign to stamp out rought play in sport. Many of those canvassed, however, insisted that the guy who paid the piper was entitled to call the tune—at least to the extent of booing a performance he considered below expected standards.

British Curtis Cup Team Captures Surprising Lead

MUIRFIELD, Scotland, June 6 (AP).—The British Curtis Cup golf team, playing with a chilling determination that matched Scotland's weather, took two of three foursomes matches today from America's best women golfers.

Thus Britain, which has never won the cup in 20 years of competition, got off to a surprisingly strong start. The Americans now must win at least four of tomorrow's six singles matches to keep the trophy.

In six previous matches since 1922, Britain's best was a tie in 1936.

The British women went about their task today on the windswept, 6,460-yard course along the Firth of Forth with a determination that let the Americans know that they were up against stern competition.

The one American victory was conclusive as Claire Doran and Marjorie Lindsay swamped Frances Stephens of England and Mrs. George Valentine of Scotland, 6 and 4.

The United States champion, Dorothy Kirby, and Grace De Moss took a 3 and 2 drubbing from Jean Donald of Scotland and Elizabeth Price of England. Polly Riley and Patricia O'Sullivan dropped a 2 and 1 decision to Moira Paterson of Scotland and Philomena Garvey of Ireland after a ding-dong struggle that was even up to the 34th hole.

School Teams To Share Softball Title

FINAL STANDINGS

	W	L	Pct.
Oak Bay	3	1	.750
Mount View	3	1	.750
Victoria High	2	2	.500
Esquimalt	1	3	.250
Mt. Douglas	1	3	.250

Mount View High handed Oak Bay its first set-back of the season in inter-high school junior boys' softball play by trouncing the Bays, 12-3, to gain a share of the league title.

Both schools wound up the season with three wins in four starts and will share the championship.

Victoria High moved into sole possession of third place by blasting Esquimalt, 17-2, at Esquimalt yesterday. The loss dumped Esquimalt into the basement with Mt. Douglas, each club winning one game while dropping three.

Dick Cameron was the winning hurler for Mount View as his club tallied five runs in the fourth and six in the fifth to salt the contest away. Mike Partridge was charged with the loss.

At Esquimalt, the visitors slammed Allan Webb for 10 runs, including two homers in the fourth inning.

Bill Harris connected for a four-bagger with the sacks loaded and Nelson Hughes hit one with the bases empty. Paul Simpson picked up the win while Webb was the losing pitcher.

Remember When . .

Steve Donoghue set a record unsurpassed in British Turf history by riding his third Derby winner in succession, 29 years ago today. Donoghue's 1923 victory was aboard Ben Irish's great colt Papyrus. He rode three other Derby winners in 1915, 1917 and 1925, for a total of six, and retired from the saddle in 1937.

OAK BAY LINE-UP

Oak Bay line-up for the cricket match against Alcos at Windsor Park this afternoon follows: Jack Sparks, Bob Colquhoun, Graham Odgers, A. Bristowe, Alan Wright, Ken Wright, J. Dutton, B. Stewart, Bob Gauvereau, Jim Thornton, J. White. Umpire, A. E. Gregg.

Picnic Arranged For Boxing Clubs

The Greater Victoria Amateur Boxing Association will hold a picnic at Mt. Douglas Park Monday for members of all Victoria boxing clubs.

The picnic will be in the form of a farewell for Billy Knowles, coach of the Police Boxing Club, who is leaving the city to join the R.C.A.F.

All boys are asked to be at the park at 1 p.m. Hot dogs and pop have been donated.

Golf--- Here's How

By SAM SNEAD
Golf's Greatest Player-Teacher

Take a look at Mr. Golf. Here's a golfer who has given his club-head plenty of follow-through.

His head is just turning to look after the ball. His right shoulder passing under his chin has told him it is now safe to look. This player has put power and rhythm into the shot and by keeping his head in the address position clear up to this point, he has provided himself with an anchor around which his weight and power revolve. This enables him to put everything into the shot with smoothness and rhythm. Had he permitted his head to move forward as he swung down he would have lost power for there would be less fulcrum to lever against. Remember, your golf swing is anchored by your feet and your head.

Walcott Asks 45 Per Cent For September Title Bout

PHILADELPHIA, June 6 (AP)—Jersey Joe Walcott's manager today demanded 45 per cent—or else—from the International Boxing Club for a September heavyweight title defence against Rocky Marciano or Harry Matthews.

"We're interested in making money," said Felix Bocchicchio as he sat in the office of his Camden, N.J., athletic club with his heavyweight champion.

"September suits us," he said. "If the I.B.C. comes up with a good match and the champion's share of 45 per cent of everything — gate, television and movies.

"Matthews is a logical opponent. So is Marciano. Clarence Henry? No, I don't think he'd draw enough money. Joey Maxim is in the picture, too.

CHARLES THROUGH

"Charles? As far as we're concerned Charles is definitely through."

Walcott's unanimous decision victory over Charles in his first title defence last night at Municipal Stadium was the fourth meeting of the two negroes.

While Felix talked, Walcott sat nearby, massaging a swollen right hand. He said he injured the hand in the seventh round last night. It was believed to be only a sprain.

Walcott said his 11-month layoff since winning the title hadn't bothered him. He expects to take a brief rest before making definite future plans.

DEFENDS AGE

The 38-year-old champion, oldest ever to wear the crown, stoutly defends as his correct age the announced 38. He was annoyed that it should be questioned.

"When I swear on my six kids about something," he said. "It really hurts you to be questioned . . . I'm 38 and I don't want to take credit for any more.

"I feel satisfied that people now realize it was no fluke punch that made me champion."

Charles, preparing to return to Cincinnati tonight, planned a new campaign to take him to the top. He probably will be sidelined a month with his eye cuts.

"I'm ready to take them all," said Charles. "Marciano, Matthews, Coley Wallace, Roland La Starza, anybody that thinks they stand in the way of me getting back to the top."

Olson Scores Easy Victory

NEW YORK, June 6 (AP).—Carl (Bobo) Olson of Honolulu tonight smothered Jimmy Beau of New Canaan, Conn., with a persistent inside attack to win a unanimous 10-round decision at Madison Square Garden. Each weighed 161¼.

Most of the battle was fought at close range with Beau always moving into Olson's smashing crossfire. The 23-year-old Olson, a talented performer who went 15 rounds with Sugar Ray Robinson, never gave Beau punching room.

There were no knockdowns although in the seventh round Olson crashed home about 10 straight punches without return.

The smallest crowd of the year—2,463 paying $6,231—cheered the boys on as Beau tried to rally in the closing seconds.

VANCOUVER ISLAND

Steps into its to-morrow

For so many years it was always tomorrow that was going to bring an industrial future to Vancouver Island.

Today, through great investments in mills that have logically come to the richest timber country in Canada, Vancouver Island is realizing its future in pulp and newsprint production.

Risk capital developing iron mines is opening a new chapter in the Island's industrial story.

Tree farming and good forest management practices, together with modern extractive methods mean that the woodworking industries now being set up should never close down for lack of supply. Here are payrolls in perpetuity.

The Island has hydro power still to develop . . . but in the offing, too, is natural gas from Alberta and the Peace River region of B.C. . . . for experts have said it is entirely feasible to pipe this vital source of industrial strength from the Lower Mainland to Vancouver Island.

Vancouver Island is "joining" the rest of Canada and marching ahead because capital for investment has faith in British Columbia people.

It is the people, through their government, who decide how risk capital will be welcomed. The people of British Columbia have always said clearly at the polls, regardless of the party they elected that they wanted FREE ENTERPRISE government.

Vancouver Island communities have a great stake in keeping it that way. There are more great tomorrows to come.

B. C. FEDERATION OF TRADE AND INDUSTRY

Road Building Termed Politics

The new Patricia Bay and Island Highways have been built for political reasons rather than safety reasons, Social Credit candidate Elmer D. McEwen said last night.

Speaking to a small crowd at Sir James Douglas School, Mr. McEwen rapped the government for the money they wasted "just to woo the voters."

"Those new roads should have been equipped with 'clover leaf' overpasses and underpasses, the way any sensible government would build such a road," he said.

He said there were many miles of fine roads built in Alberta that will far outlast the roads in this province and at less cost to the taxpayers.

In answer to many queries through letters in the newspapers about a coalition with other parties Mr. McEwen said:

NO COALITION

"The Social Credit will coalesce with no one. It just wouldn't be possible."

He gave the reason for the B.C. Electric raise in rates as that company's method of pushing its corporation taxes back to the consumer.

"Why should they be able to do that. You and I can't push our taxes back on to anyone else."

Mrs. Lydia A. Arsens forecast a short life for the opposition parties.

"Some of the remarks you have heard directed at us by our opposition are their last breaths of survival," she said.

She scored the Liberal government for letting the monopolies exist and "bleed" the people.

"The monopolies are hoarding all the wealth that God meant each and every one of us to have. We are having a superficial prosperity that is far from genuine," she said.

DISGRACEFUL TREATMENT

The treatment the Alcan officials meted out to farmers and property owners in the part of the province they built on was described by Mrs. Arsens as disgraceful.

"They got most of the property from the government for an average of 22 cents an acre, and in some cases they are reselling it to the people for as high as $3,500 a lot. This is what Mr. Johnson refers to as 'his gem'," she said.

Treatment of chronic cases in hospitals in B.C. was also attacked by Mrs. Arsens.

"Chronic cases are actually thrown out of hospitals after the 30-day period is up. In Alberta a patient can stay in hospital for as long as five years if he so wishes, chronic or not," she said.

Donald J. Smith, Victoria alderman, third Social Credit speaker for the evening promised legislation without any strings attached if his party got into power.

NO SLUSH FUND

"We have no great slush fund for our campaign, so we will owe nobody. We will not have to appease friends with soft political jobs," he said.

He described B.C. as one of the most beautiful provinces in Canada with untold amounts of natural wealth as yet untouched.

"There is only one thing lacking to make this province perfect, good government," he said.

Describing the great boom in B.C., he said the only people who really felt it were those who had to go to the United States to look for work.

"The people of this province received only 1 per cent of the profits of the fabulous timber industry when they should have seen far more of it go into the provincial treasury," he said.

He said it was a "disgusting thing" that the Liberals should deliberately twist the truth and try to hoodwink the people into putting them back in office.

"We need a reduction in taxes from the senior governments so that we can live in a healthy community," he said.

Alberta Social Crediter Admires B.C. Potential

British Columbia could be in "better financial condition than Alberta" through management of natural resources, Mrs. C. R. Wood, M.L.A. for Stoneyplain, Alta., told a Social Credit meeting in Oak Bay last night.

Mrs. Wood said, "I am not here to make comparisons between B.C. and Alberta, because I don't know the full score on your province. Nor has Alberta sent me to try to join the two provinces together.

"The United States may want B.C., but Alberta doesn't."

Mrs. Wood pointed out that more than 50 per cent of the voters in Canada are women. "Women are good house-cleaners, and they can certainly clean house for us on the 12th.

"People have got twisted ideas about Social Credit because characters come into Alberta for a week and then go away and write a book about it," she said.

"Money is the link between production and consumption," she said. "Isn't it just as easy to balance the money as to juggle it?

"We are on the verge of the world's depression or the world's worst war, and if it comes to war, science will win this time," she said.

MUNICIPAL LOANS

She maintained that debt is not being reduced at the expense of municipalities in Alberta. Money is loaned to municipalities for public works at 2 per cent, she said.

"We have reached the stage where man must choose whether he wants to ride on debt-ridden ideas to destruction, or get wise and get out of debt," she said.

C. George Alexander, Social Credit candidate for Oak Bay, also addressed the gathering, which numbered about 100.

He dealt at length with Education Minister W. T. Straith's recent statement that B.C. schools were "only semi-permanent, built to last 60 or 70 years."

"That is typical of the old-line parties," Mr. Alexander said. "They don't care about future generations who have to pay off the debts incurred by borrowing money and putting the province in debt."

Anscomb Held Possessor Of Dictatorial Mentality

"Herbert Anscomb has a dictatorial mentality," said Mrs. Nancy Hodges, Liberal candidate for Victoria, at a Liberal meeting in Oak Bay High School last night.

Mrs. Hodges said she thinks the Conservative slogan "P.C. for B.C." should really mean "poor choice for B.C."

Dealing with hospital insurance she told the audience that 40 per cent of hospital patients were unable to pay their hospital bills before B.C.H.I.S. came into effect.

She took issue with Conservatives' labeling of Liberal grant to Victoria as "political baloney," and with Conservatives claim that their grant to the city would enable the Yates Street Fire Hall to re-open.

"The strange thing about that statement is that it was a Conservative who closed the Yates Street Fire Hall," she said.

P. A. Gibbs, Liberal candidate for Cadboro Bay, also took a swing at Anscomb.

He said, "This riding has been nominally represented in the legislature by its own member since 1938, but the man to whom that high honor was given was so occupied rocking the Coalition boat and trying to hold his political party together to keep it from entirely disintegrating that, as far as the record shows, he does not even know which constituency he was supposed to represent."

Last Program In Series Set

The final program in a series of concerts sponsored jointly by Greater Victoria school board and Victoria parks department, will be held at 3 p.m., Sunday, in Beacon Hill Park.

The concert will be presented by the S. J. Willis Jr. High School band under direction of Howard Denike and by the chorus conducted by Miss C. Menzies.

McCurdy Rites Set for Monday

Funeral services for Alexander McCurdy, 62, of 28 Bryn Mawr Road, Langford, who died here Thursday, will be held at Sands Funeral Home at 2 p.m., Monday.

Rev. J. A. Stewart will officiate.

Mr. McCurdy was born in County Antrim, Northern Ireland, and was a resident of Langford for the past five years.

He is survived by his widow, Jane, Langford; two daughters, Elizabeth, Langford and Mrs. I. W. Kuest, Odessa, Wash.; a son, John, Montreal; two brothers and two sisters in Ireland.

Burial will be in Colwood Burial Park.

Sales Tax Called Usurious

What was described by the candidates as the largest and most intelligent political meeting of the whole campaign was held by Independent candidates W. B. Scott and Philip B. Freedman last night.

"There was no political mud-slinging and the people kept us until 11.15 asking sensible questions," Mr. Freedman said.

Speaking at their headquarters, 715 View, the two candidates dealt with several of the more contentious issues of the election.

Mr. Freedman urged for the abolition of the sales tax.

"It is badly organized, sloppily applied and without foundation or need. This usurious imposition upon the public of B.C. is truly the rich man's joy and the poor man's sorrow."

CAR FEES

An immediate reduction of the automobile fees was called for by Mr. Freedman.

"There should be a sliding scale for the commercial vehicles and trucks," he said. "Let the highway monsters carry a license fee commensurate with their weight loads."

He advocated a return of $1 of the $5 driver's license.

A proposal was made by Mr. Freedman that a "poor man's legal office" be established in every district with a population of 10,000 persons.

"This is a vital necessity. All the lawyers could be bonded in the sum of $50,000," he said.

Agriculture and power were the main topics of Mr. Scott.

"If we were to spend 5 per cent of our consolidated revenue for agricultural research, our food costs could be cut in half," he said.

MASS PRODUCTION

He advocated a mass production system with agriculture and research for farmers. He said it was the mass production system that gave the people the low-priced automobile and the same thing could be done with food.

He rapped the idle, earth-moving equipment that could be used to solve the irrigational problems of the province.

"With the use of government equipment and voluntary labor, all the problems of irrigation in this province could be solved at no cost," Mr. Scott said.

He claimed that if the people were given their fair share of revenue from water power all our provincial debts could be wiped out and the hospital insurance scheme handled quite easily.

TECHNICAL KNOWLEDGE

"Very few politicians have enough technical knowledge to understand this.

"If they would spend more time telling the people things like this instead of dealing with intangibles like freedom and liberty and promises they never intend to keep, they would be far better off.

"The true value of an independent in the house was the fact that he is involved in no internal party struggles and the true voice of the people can be heard," Mr. Scott said.

"This is what has kept all governments healthy for many years," he added.

Cards Indicate Place To Vote

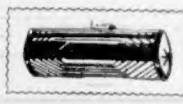

Every person on the voters' list is scheduled to receive a card stating the exact location to vote in the June 12 election.

A total of 80,961 cards are in the mail in Greater Victoria, said W. H. Ryan, registrar of voters.

Prices Close At New York On New Highs

NEW YORK, June 6 (AP). — In its third straight advance the [illegible] its third straight new 1952 high.

Buyers rotated their attention from one major group to another, and the entire market responded.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks gained 40 cents at $105.30, the highest level for the average since June 13, 1930, when it stood at $106.70.

In the background of the advance was a highly optimistic feeling in Wall Street that the [illegible] steel strike would be settled with a compromise wage and price boost.

At the same time, railroad earnings estimates for this year have been on the higher side.

The industrial component of the AP average, with a gain of $1, had the biggest hand in advancing the 60-stock average by 40 cents at $105.30. The railroad component was up 20 cents and utilities 10 cents.

Base Metals Rally

TORONTO, June 6 (CP). — Industrials and western oils today pushed a steady stock market [illegible] through its third consecutive [illegible].

Base metals climbed slowly toward the session's close after a weak start. Golds, however, made little headway.

Papers and steels led industrials with gains ranging to about $1.

Western oil leaders were strong but lower-priced issues returned a scattered list of penny declines. Canadian Atlantic, Decalta, Jupiter, North Canadian, Okalta, Sel[illegible] and Western Homestead climbed strongly.

Base metals pushed upward as Consolidated Smelters, Heners, Hudson Bay, Mining [illegible], No[illegible] and [illegible] Gordon traded higher. Labrador and Mindamar eased.

Higher Prices Rule

MONTREAL, June 6 (CP). — Higher prices ruled at the close. Trading was moderate.

Papers, steels, senior oils, senior metals, utilities and miscellaneous industrials held early strength.

Beverages and banks held gains and losses in balance and carriers traded steady.

Paper Development jumped 2½ points to 14½. Power Corporation added 1⅛ at 31. Algoma Steel gained 1½ at 16. Atlas Steel advanced 1½ at 22 and Stelco was higher by a point at 31. Bank of Montreal opened at [illegible], climbed a point and decreased to close at 38½. Shawinigan was up ⅞ at 3[illegible].

Mines were mixed in a narrow range. New [illegible] with a turnover of [illegible] shares, [illegible] five cents at [illegible]. Anacon [illegible] and [illegible] also firmed.

In western oils, Western Homestead climbed 25 cents at $2.55 and Altex, Empire and Okalta also firmed. Gaspe slipped 15 cents at [illegible] Phillips and Del Rio [illegible] were off.

Oil Gains Made

VANCOUVER, June 6. — Small gains were made in a number of smaller [illegible] City, Charter and Gas Exploration each moved up 3 cents, while Okalta advanced a nickel.

On the other side was United Oils down [illegible] at $2.55.

Mines were mixed with West[illegible] climbing 10 cents to $1.10. [illegible] at 49 but [illegible], Estella and Pacific [illegible] were lower.

There was little activity or change in industrials.

London Stock Prices

LONDON, June 6 (Reuters). — The stock exchange finished the week on a generally cheerful note today though towards the close some prices eased.

British government securities partly responsible for the early strength in markets finished with only a [illegible] harder tendency on the day after gains of up to a [illegible] point.

South African gold shares and diamonds were idle and inclined [illegible].

[illegible]

Grain Prices

WINNIPEG, June 6 (CP).—All prices moved higher today in coarse grain futures trading on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange. The tense international situation and reports of dryness in the U.S. spring wheat belt were factors in the trade.

Aggressive buying by export and shipping interests in oats and barley indicated fairly substantial business had been done with the continent. Offerings were well absorbed.

Industrial and other interests bought flax.

Export loadings of Canadian wheat reported in the last few days included: United Kingdom 2[illegible],000, Germany 30,000, Netherlands [illegible],000, Norway 700,000, South Africa [illegible],000, France 300,000, Italy [illegible],000, Sweden 350,000, Peru [illegible],000, Eire 50,000.

Canadian Markets Follow Good Rise

BY HARRY YOUNG
Colonist Business Editor

After several weeks of declining prices, the Canadian stock markets took hold of themselves and under the inspiring leadership of Wall Street reversed the trend during the past week.

All sections of the Toronto and Montreal markets, except the golds, which showed a slight [illegible] interest returned to western oils while industrials went ahead under the lead of the heavies such as steels, and of the papers and pulps, which picked up considerably as the latest advance in the price of newsprint to the United States was accepted with no more than the normal barrage of protest.

One explanation of the strength in steels may have been the announcement yesterday of an extremely favorable earnings report by Canadian Vickers. This big shipbuilding concern more than trebled its 1950 profits.

For the year ending February 29, 1952, Vickers made $1,113,27[illegible] against $[illegible] in the previous 12 months.

The earnings per share amounted to $2.10 against 61 cents in 1950.

[illegible] Vickers price of $16 [illegible] as the market closed [illegible] extremely attractive.

METALS FAVORED

Also noted during the bullish week was the strength of the senior metals. Consolidated Mining and Smelting added $1 at $[illegible] following the announcement of a slightly reduced dividend, while International Nickel, which goes from record to record in its production, was also up over a point on the week at $[illegible].

The eagerness with which two eastern oil convertible debenture issues, B.A. Oil and New Superior, were snapped up indicates that not only Canadian but also U.S. money is still pouring strongly into Canadian developments, and particularly oils.

The next big oil issue is expected to be by Federated Petroleums [illegible] shares, [illegible],000 in Canada and 500,000 in the United States. The price of the issue has yet to be announced, but the present stock price of $11 may be a guide.

WILLISTON BASIN HEAT

The peak of the past week's performance occurred in New York where the Dow Jones rail average and the Associated Press average of 60 stocks were at their highest in 21 years.

Steels were nearly as hot as the rails, but the greatest strength was in those companies with interests in the Williston oil basin.

The leading oil companies are speeding up their exploration and drilling in this area and it is expected that before the summer is out a clearer pattern of what lies below the Dakotas, Montana and Saskatchewan may be available.

The indications are, therefore, that the market is enjoying its traditional summer revival and the more optimistic Wall Street forces believe that the industrial average will go right through the 1951 high to top the 300 point mark before the fall.

In Canada the estimates are more conservative although [illegible] of [illegible] are in a better position to take advantage of any sudden upturn in market requirements.

The new issue of $2,000,000 of five per cent sinking fund convertible debentures of New Superior Oils was heavily oversubscribed this week.

The debentures, which were offered at par, are convertible into common stock at $5.88 per share up to Dec. 1, 1954, at $6.94 per share up to June 1, 1957, and from that date to maturity on June 1, 1961, the transfer rate is $8.33 per share.

Yesterday the debentures were bid at a premium of $5 with no takers at that level.

D-2 Oil Struck In McLeod Pool

A D-2 strike is reported by Midet Pyrez Petroleums at their Midet [illegible] 127 well in the [illegible] McLeod pool.

The well topped the D-2 at 5,193 feet and two successive drillstem tests gave the following results: 5,207-257 feet gas at surface and 70 feet of oil-cut mud; 5,257-5,277 feet gave 116,000 cubic feet of gas and recovered 280 feet of clean oil.

The crew is preparing to electrolog and run casing.

The well is one of four being drilled by Midet Pyrez, Lee Carlson [illegible] and Midet Bros. Drilling and Development.

Business Booming For Split Combine

FRANKFURT, June 6 (AP). — The German I.G. Farben monopoly has been broken up but nevertheless its [illegible] are doing a booming business, [illegible] during the last two years [illegible].

[illegible]

Under the Allied decartelization program the West German government agreed to break this combine up into 12 independent units.

Four major companies already have been formed. Eight others are about ready to begin operations as soon as the complex distribution of shares, property and other assets of the former monopoly can be worked out.

Saskatchewan Well Gives Oil From Jurassic

REGINA, June 6 (CP). — Socony-Vacuum Exploration Co. today was reported to have made an oil discovery in the Gull Lake area of southwestern Saskatchewan.

Gravity of the crude in the new well Socony Western Prairie Midway No. 1, was not immediately determined. But drilling crews described the oil as similar to the 24.5-degree gravity medium crude discovery by Socony last January in the Fosterton field, 15 miles northeast of the latest find.

Fosterton crude is produced from the Roseray sands of the cretaceous group, whereas the new find is in the top of the lower and older Jurassic formation. It is the first Jurassic formation discovery in Saskatchewan.

In a 90-minute drill stem test of the interval of 3,445 to 3,465 feet natural gas reached the surface in 18 minutes at an estimated rate of flow of 80,000 cubic feet daily and 1,480 feet of clean oil was recovered in the pipe.

U.S. Firm Seeks Ontario Iron Ore

SIMCOE, Ont., June 6 (CP). — United States Steel Corporation is the mysterious buyer who has taken options on more than 5,400 acres of western Ontario farm land in the last 10 months.

Optioning agent J. Ewart MacKay said yesterday the options have been taken by Oliver Iron Mining, a division of U.S. Steel located in Duluth, Minn.

The objective, as in two other [illegible] deals in eastern Ontario, is iron ore.

Jobs Claimed Main Interest in B.C.

People of British Columbia are primarily interested in jobs, Provincial Secretary W. T. Straith said yesterday.

Development of power and expansion of highways and railways has been aimed at utilizing resources, he said.

Carrying out of this aim includes the John Hart development at Campbell River, sufficient to accommodate four pulp mills on Vancouver Island, putting to work hundreds of men on Vancouver Island.

He reviewed government policy which has helped establish plants at Port Edward, the Celgar Company near Trail, in the future Alcan development at Kitimat, and others.

The Liberal party pledges a continuance of the policy of development, Mr. Straith said.

Cortisone Saves Life Of Ex-Victoria Boy

"Miracle" cortisone was credited in a Vancouver story yesterday with saving the life of a former Victoria boy who moved to the Mainland city with his parents four months ago.

Victor MacKinnon, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred L. MacKinnon, [illegible] Avenue, now at 907 East [illegible] Street, Vancouver, was recovering in St. Vincent's Hospital after a week-long battle against painful rheumatic fever which brought him close to death.

Cortisone was given the credit for easing his pain and saving his life. It was used as a last expedient after all other medicines and treatments had failed to ease his suffering.

GREAT PAIN

The boy endured pain so great [illegible] hospital and even after he finally lapsed into unconsciousness he continued to cry out.

A rush call was sent out to his father working at Kitimat to come to the bedside of his dying son.

A few hours after cortisone was administered the boy opened his eyes and said: "Mom, it doesn't hurt any more."

Earlier his mother had desperately urged the use of the drug [illegible] suffering youngster.

Within 11 hours after the first cortisone treatment the patient had recovered enough to smile and ask for something to eat.

HUGE BREAKFAST

A couple of mornings after he ate cereal, three poached eggs and 12 pieces of toast for breakfast. Color was returning to his cheeks and he had started to regain some of the 22 pounds he lost during the illness.

"I thank God for the miracle He gave us through cortisone," Mrs. MacKinnon said.

She said she had called the Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society and [illegible] to the society's funds.

"My son's [illegible] made me realize that there must be hundreds of other [illegible] need the kind of help we were able to give my son [illegible]," she said.

Strawberry Crop Menaced By Poison-Resistant Bug

Bumper strawberry crop about to be harvested on Vancouver Island is being threatened by an increase in the black vine weevil, a No. 1 destroyer of strawberry plants.

Agricultural experts in the area said the weevil had wiped [illegible]

They said the bug, about three-eighths of an inch long, had proved resistant to a poison bait put out each year to attract and destroy adult weevils before they can lay eggs.

Although the black weevil has been in existence here for many years, [illegible] a major danger to field berry plants, entomologists said.

ANOTHER KILLER

The experts said the bait which is mixed with apple refuse as a lure for the weevils had apparently [illegible] off another pest [illegible] the strawberry root weevil, an insect about one-third the size of the black vine variety.

Other methods exist of coping with the black vine weevil, the experts said, and these are being tried at the present time.

The [illegible] a method that will kill both weevils and also the June bug or white grub which also attacks strawberry plants.

The agriculturists hope to perfect a way to kill all three by a system that will work in conjunction with the growing [illegible] of the berries.

The pledge came from Premier E. C. Manning who came from Edmonton to speak in support of his party's candidates in the June 12 provincial election.

In the crowd-packed Vancouver forum Thursday night he declared:

"Our B.C. party is quite capable of looking after B.C.'s affairs and there will be no interference from Alberta."

Premier Manning said he knew nothing of the $100,000 campaign fund available for the B.C. election.

"Why," he said, "we have never had that much for our Alberta campaigns."

Ald. Cornett, who is running in Vancouver-Burrard, said the northern extension of the railway [illegible] farmers to obtain Peace River grain which is now being shipped to Edmonton.

This would be of tremendous importance to [illegible] industries, he said.

Ald. Cornett stressed the importance of [illegible] between Canada and other Commonwealth countries as a means of solidifying export markets for B.C.'s basic industries.

The Liberal election platform is "a tissue of false promises that will never be redeemed," E. C. Carson declared in a radio speech last night.

Mr. Carson, former Coalition public works minister and Conservative candidate for re-election in Lillooet, said the Liberal party is "torn asunder . . . it's as unstable a party as ever offered itself to the electorate."

Liberal cabinet ministers during the Coalition regime "were responsible for the present fiasco of hospital insurance, continual blocking of liquor law reforms and the disgraceful conditions in regard to the price and marketing of milk," he charged.

Mr. Carson had some harsh words for other opposing parties.

The C.C.F., he said, offers "state control and direction of everything, including your daily lives."

Social Credit, he said, offers "to administer the affairs of this province by remote control. Its candidates are but puppets and the strings are pulled by outsiders."

"Only the Conservative Party can and will give you stable government," he said.

NO. 150—NINETY-FOURTH YEAR VICTORIA, BRITISH COLUMBIA, SATURDAY, JUNE 7, 1952 SECOND NEWS SECTION

Firm of Experts Controls Policy, Anscomb Asserts

Control of government policy has passed from the hands of the premier to a hired firm of efficiency experts, Progressive Conservative leader Herbert Anscomb charged in a hard-hitting speech last night at Monterey School.

Mr. Anscomb, just back from a 7,000-mile tour of 30 constituencies, took time out to tell the voters of his home riding of Oak Bay what he thought of the Liberal Party.

For 20 minutes he hammered steadily at what he called a "split" in the Liberals' hospital insurance plank.

"This breach is getting wider by the hour," he said.

"There has never been a period in our political history when there has been such weakness and indecision on a great problem."

WIDE DIFFERENCE

Mr. Anscomb said that from the start of the election campaign there has been "a wide difference of opinion between Premier Johnson and his first lieutenant, the attorney-general, over the proposed abolition of co-insurance."

"The premier has said co-insurance must remain or the present plan will fail," he said. "But Mr. Wismer says 'Fail or not, co-insurance is going out.'

"When the premier was pressed to the issue, he said he would remove co-insurance on the basis of the recommendations of Stevenson & Kellogg, the management consultant firm which the government hired to streamline the insurance service.

"The control and responsibility for the policy of the government has gone from the premier's office to this paid firm who are telling him what to do," Mr. Anscomb charged.

"What will be the premier's position if Stevenson & Kellogg should tell him that co-insurance must remain and premiums must be raised as well?"

SAVAGE REBUTTAL

Mr. Anscomb turned savagely on Liberal advertisements that "the Johnson administration was the best government B.C. ever had."

"It was nothing of the kind," Mr. Anscomb snorted. "The first coalition government was the Hart-Maitland administration. Then it became the Hart-Anscomb government. After that it became the Johnson-Anscomb government.

"The only time it was a 'Johnson administration' was in the last four months since the premier broke the coalition. And let me remind you that the only two things he did in that time were to pass the budget and ask for a dissolution of the house."

Mr. Anscomb said that "Johnson could never have become premier if it hadn't been for me. That was part of the original coalition agreement. He could never have been premier if I hadn't agreed to it."

IN AND OUT

What it amounts to, Mr. Anscomb said, is that "I let him in and he let me out."

But he reminded his audience there's always a second act to any drama. "And when the curtain goes up on [illegible] they're going to push him out and put me in."

Mr. Anscomb spoke to an audience of about 350. He was flanked by four other Greater Victoria candidates, Mrs. Margaret Hatvey, Walter Miles and Albert McPhillips, city candidates, and [illegible] of Esquimalt.

His special guest was Ald. Elizabeth Wood, a young and attractive New Westminster housewife who flew over for last night's meeting.

Mrs. Wood is opposing Premier Johnson in his own bailiwick, but that doesn't frighten her, she said.

"The only thing that has scared me in this whole campaign was my visit to the Anscombs," she said.

LITTLE HOUSE

Mrs. Wood explained that she had always thought of Mr. Anscomb as "a man who lived in a house with 72 rooms and four butlers."

She was pleasantly surprised, she said, "to find that the Anscombs live in a lovely little house and are as human and simple as anyone."

"We the Conservative party and our leader are one family," she said. "Whether we win or lose, we have given you something in our platform that you haven't had for years, unity of purpose."

Scottish Officers Hold Reunion

'How Stupid Can Liberals Get?' Queries C.C.F.'s Harold Winch

"How stupid can the Liberal party get?" C.C.F. leader Harold Winch asked a Victoria audience last night.

"The Liberals are saying the C.C.F. will spend in its first year if elected as much as earned by all the people in the province," he said.

He quoted figures showing the 1952 budget at $142,000,000 and with borrowing power $156,000,000. "People earned last year approximately $1,174,800,000," he added.

"The current campaign is one of the most 'fantastic elections' he has ever seen. It is however most encouraging to the C.C.F.," he added. "I've never seen the old line parties on the run as they are today."

The candidate said the Liberals are promising they'll do what already is done. They claim a Liberal government elected June 12 would result in a Kitimat rail way and get the Alcan project, but the railway has been approved federally and the Alcan project already is under way."

BETRAYING PEOPLE

The party leader also accused the Liberals and Progressive Conservatives of "betraying the people in dealing with natural resources by concluding matters by order in council."

He criticized the Liberal campaign plank of completion of the P.G.E. Railway. The premier has $3,000,000 for a highway there but the provincial public works department hasn't started any plans, he added.

The C.C.F. is pledged to complete the railway into North Vancouver, he commented.

"Vote Liberal and get oil exploration," he quoted from a Liberal poster. There are already 32 oil exploration permits held today, he added.

"I don't know why Vancouver Island people are not in revolt over the lack of information on Buttle Lake," Mr. Winch continued. Liberals and P.C.'s don't like giving information and his party was refused information on the problem during the session, he said.

BUTTLE NOT CLOSED

"As far as the C.C.F. is concerned, Buttle Lake is not closed. The problem will be referred to a standing committee to hear all reports, investigate if necessary, and a decision based on evidence, not on politics," the C.C.F. leader added.

"The premier is weasling," he contended in reference to hospital insurance. "What is Liberal policy?"

The speaker said the convention recommended consideration for abolition of co-insurance. Mr. Johnson says he wants to retain it and Gordon Wismer adds that co-insurance goes or he goes.

C.C.F. government would do away with co-insurance, improve administration and the scheme, Mr. Winch continued.

An automobile insurance plan similar to that in Saskatchewan also would be operated by a C.C.F. government, he said.

TAKE OVER COMPANY

"We will take over the B.C. Electric Co.," he said bluntly in support of his party's program for power at cost and "efficient [illegible] public ownership [illegible] is no answer," he said.

[illegible] Anscomb as finance minister had power to [illegible] rural electrification under the Power Act but he failed, he added.

Also at the final C.C.F. rally last night were all Greater Victoria C.C.F. candidates, each of whom spoke briefly of the party program.

Up-Island Carpenters Quit; Allied Tradesmen Hit, Too

COURTENAY, June 6 — Five hundred carpenters in two locals of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners (A.F.L.-T.L.C.) went on strike at noon today.

The action also idled hundreds of other workers in allied trades.

Locals 1638, Courtenay, and 1882, Campbell River, took the strike action to back demands for an hourly rate of $2.50. Present rate is $2. A conciliation board did not recommend a wage boost.

Pickets were placed by 12.45 p.m. on jobs ranging from small stores to work being done at the R.C.A.F. station, Comox, and the giant Duncan Bay paper mill near Campbell River.

Projects affected include the new Courtenay Elementary School, a new gasoline service station, the Central Mortgage and Housing subdivision at Comox for married air force personnel, the officers' quarters [illegible] port, the radar station, the explosive storage warehouses, a housing project for the paper mill personnel at Duncan Bay, as well as work around the plant itself.

FIRE HALL UNAFFECTED

The new Courtenay fire hall is not affected as all carpentry work has been completed and the [illegible] type doors still to be installed will be hung by the manufacturers' representatives.

At the airport, where pickets were placed, other trades also walked off the job, including plumbers, pipefitters and all other trades at the Duncan Bay plant of the Elk Falls Company.

Abercrombie and Ness, building the Courtenay elementary school, have written Local 1638 advising that the firm is willing to pay $2.50 an hour as of noon today in order not to delay progress on the school which [illegible] School Board hopes will be finished by September.

The union has no certification with the construction company although there are [illegible] men on the job. The school also was picketed.

The [illegible] tonight to discuss the offer [illegible] been released from Local 1638 strike committee.

[illegible]

[illegible] of carpenters visited both Courtenay and Campbell River locals today and flew from Comox to Vancouver for a meeting with the provincial negotiating committee and the Building Trades Council, A.F.L.-T.L.C.

On the Courtenay elementary school job the union allowed three laborers who were sealing the roof to continue spreading tar and gravel. On another project, a store-office building, laborers were permitted to continue [illegible] that portion of the job completed.

At the paper mill and the airport there is not a sign of work.

Firms affected by the strike in Courtenay are Smith Bros. and Wilson, Harrison and Langford, James Revie. At Campbell River companies tied up include Ivan Aven, B.C. Bridge and Dredging Co., Argonaut Mining Co., Janson and Polglase, Campbell Bennett and Dawson and Hall.

Union To Vote June 11

A government-supervised strike vote among Victoria carpenters will be held June 11, the Labor Relations Board announced yesterday.

The vote will be for members of Local 1598, United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners (A.F.L.-T.L.C.). It will be conducted from 7.30 to 10 p.m. in the [illegible] room of the Knights of Pythias Hall, 723 Cormorant Street.

The local is taking the strike vote to back a conciliation board recommendation for an hourly rate of $2.50. Present rate is [illegible]

Bridge Opening Today

LAKE COWICHAN, June 6 — The new [illegible] Bridge [illegible] Cowichan River here will be opened Saturday at 2 p.m. by Evan Jones, deputy minister of public works.

It replaces the bridge that collapsed May 9, 1951.

Long-awaited hard surfacing of the Youbou Road will await favorable weather. Machinery is now being set up at Meade Creek.

Wootton Defends Anscomb

[illegible] that Conservative [illegible] Herbert Anscomb [illegible] for his [illegible] riding of Oak Bay [illegible] has been in the [illegible] were denied last night by E. A. Wootton.

Mr. Wootton spoke at a Conservative rally at Monterey School. He listed as some of Mr. Anscomb's contributions to Oak Bay:

1. Arranging for the province to pay part of the cost of laying Beach Drive.

2. "Utmost help" to the Oak Bay council in closing the Willows show grounds, where "conditions were deplorable from the point of view of a fire menace and health menace."

3. A determined but unsuccessful fight to block the incorporation of Oak Bay into the Greater Victoria School District.

Edgelow Pledges Coast Road Action

"In addition to personally keeping up with the needs of the district I will keep in constant touch with the Chambers of Commerce and other Esquimalt community organizations for my whole term of office if I am elected June 12," Esquimalt Liberal candidate Geoffrey I. Edgelow told a Metchosin audience last night.

"If you elect me I think we can get things done for Esquimalt," Mr. Edgelow said. "It will be the first time in 35 years that under party politics Esquimalt has been represented by a member of the government in power."

"That will be if the Liberals win and I am sure they will," he added.

"Conservatives started the Port Renfrew Road 40 years ago and never finished it. Now they are belittling my efforts.

"When something is needed for the good of the district parties should be united," he said. "When Esquimalt has a member who belongs to the governing Liberal party I am sure the road will be built."

On co-insurance Mr. Edgelow said, "The Liberal party voted strongly against co-insurance and it will abolish co-insurance. The members of the Liberal party set the policy and it will be followed.

"Hospital insurance at the present time is better off financially than it has ever been," the Liberal candidate said. "In fact, it has been brought to my attention that the State of Washington plans to institute hospital insurance and has studied the B.C. set-up as a model for its own."

Speaking on behalf of the candidate, Hugh Botterell said there isn't a C.C.F. candidate in the election who has the ability to run the complex government of B.C.

"After the June 12 election the Progressive Conservatives will be in the same boat as the Social Crediters," he said. "They won't have a leader either because Archie Gibbs is going to beat Herbert Anscomb in Oak Bay."

Boys' Big Day Means Work For Mothers

Mothers of Boy Scouts and Wolf Cubs all over Greater Victoria turned to their ovens yesterday to turn out the cakes and pies and cookies and all sorts of good things that boys seem to need when they gather outdoors.

A big Scout pageant will be held in Macdonald Park at 2 p.m. today, and about 2,000 boys are expected.

That means 2,000 stomachs, or 6,000 sandwiches and 4,000 pieces of cake, 2,000 pieces of pie, 6,000 cookies and untold gallons of pop.

All over Greater Victoria yesterday, the mothers were busy.

Industry, Scientists Competing

A race between the Aluminum Co. of Canada and a party of University of British Columbia scientists will start this summer.

Dr. E. C. Borden, university archaeologist, and his party will go to Tweedsmuir Park looking for additional proof that Asia was the first home of the Indians.

The company plans to partly flood the park this summer when the Nechako River dam is put into use.

A grant of $8,650 has been given to the scientists for the research by the provincial education department and it is hoped that several new lines of proof that there was a migration here from Asia many years ago will be found.

Potato Price Rise Expected Next Week

Retail prices of potatoes are expected to increase one and two cents a pound by next week, placing prices at 10 cents a pound and perhaps higher, it was reported yesterday.

The increase will result from elimination yesterday of price controls on potatoes from the United States.

Agriculture experts added that if Canadians want more U.S. potatoes they'll have to outbid the American buyer. Some relief may be expected soon if prices soar, however, as B.C.-grown potatoes are beginning to arrive on the market.

In Victoria wholesale price of potatoes increased from $8 to $8.50 a sack yesterday.

In the United States wholesale prices shot up as much as $2 to $4 a hundredweight after removal of price ceilings.

The U.S. price ceilings had worked to the advantage of Canadian consumers even though they fostered black markets, Canadian Press reported from Ottawa.

U.S. shippers were allowed only a fixed price on exports, but Canadian dealers apparently had some understanding with the shippers whereby they turned over some of their profits to suppliers, it was reported.

This encouraged American producers to ship to Canada and led to protests by U.S. consumers resulting in the removal of ceilings, it was reported.

Army Asks Money, Workers

Response to the annual Red Shield appeal of the Salvation Army has been "fine," according to a publicity spokesman, but the Army needs canvassers badly.

The fund is $5,000 short of the objective of $30,000 and canvassing has been extended to June 15.

"Too many appeals during the year so far" was the reason given by Salvation Army authorities for the slowness of the present Red Shield appeal.

People are giving readily when canvassed but the Army can't get enough volunteer workers to complete all the contacts they would like to. Pledges will be taken by phone at Empire 3341.

Home Tenders Possible in Fall

Tenders may be called this autumn for a new 100-bed $450,000 Victoria Nursing Home, Ald. Mrs. Margaret Christie said yesterday.

The building plans are now in Ottawa for approval. The federal, provincial and municipal governments are paying one-third of the cost each.

It is hoped that when construction is complete the present home at 63 Gorge Road will be used for occupational therapy and as a nurses' home. The present home has a 42-bed capacity, she said.

The new home will adjoin the present building.

Branch Gavel Presented

New president of Vancouver Island Branch of B.C. Purchasing Agents' Association, W. B. Dickieson, receives branch gavel from J. F. Orrange (left) at installation ceremonies held last night. Mr. Orrange is first vice-president of B.C. association. Mr. Dickieson is employed by Greater Victoria School Board. Other new Island executive members include W. H. Yardley of Yarrows, vice-president; Grahame Warburton of Sidney Roofing, secretary-treasurer. Retiring president is Victoria city purchasing agent G. F. Sharpe.—(Colonist photo by Jim Ryan.)

Royal Memorial Urged by Group

—AROUND TOWN—

A resolution to campaign for a memorial for King George VI was unanimously endorsed by Native Sons of British Columbia, Post No. 1, of Victoria at a recent meeting.

The resolution was presented by James A. Brand.

Members will canvass other organizations, service clubs, lodges and the provincial government, inviting them to join the campaign.

Native Sons hope a committee of all delegates from other organizations can be set up to decide on the type of memorial to be erected.

Twenty-six modern misses from Victoria High School took a flier at practical geography on Thursday in a two-hour flight over the lower Mainland.

The class, all senior commercial students, earned money for the flight in part-time jobs during the school year.

The girls flew in a T.C.A. plane to view topography of the Gulf Islands, Fraser Valley as far up as Hope, over Harrison Hot Springs and Vancouver.

For many of the co-eds it was the first time in the air.

New Toni

WITH PRICELESS PINK LOTION

Holds the set longer than any other permanent!

Which Twin's Toni was set a week ago—and which was set today?

Yes, both twins have Toni's. Julia Lacy, on the left, had hers set just before this picture was taken. Cynthia, on the right, had her Toni set one whole week before and never re-set it! You can't tell the difference. Here's proof that Priceless Pink Lotion gives a wave that stays lovely without re-setting!

You'll forget all other ideas about permanents the first time you use New Toni with Priceless Pink Lotion. For the new Toni process is faster, gives a wave with the vibrant spring and silky softness of a natural wave. Yes, and it holds the set longer than any other permanent you've ever had!

Never a lotion so wonderful! You've never used anything like Toni's new Priceless Pink Lotion! It curls more completely—yet is kinder to your hair! And that means a lovelier, livelier wave for you. Less re-setting. New freedom from the nightly chore of pin curls.

Never a neutralizer so fast! You save 20 minutes with the new Permafix method of neutralizing. And because Permafix neutralizes more thoroughly, it "locks in" your Toni wave so it can't come out. New Toni means all day—every day beauty for you month after month.

Never a guarantee so complete! If you don't say your new Toni looks lovelier and holds the set longer than any other permanent you've ever had, the Toni Company will cheerfully refund your money. So try New Toni—and you be the judge.

Ask for the New Toni at any cosmetic counter.

Fond memories linger every day,
Remembrance keeps him near.

Sadly missed by Mom, Dad, brothers and [illegible].

GAGNON — In loving memory of Ned Gagnon, stoker on the H.M.C.S. Fraser, died June 1940, and Andre Gagnon, who [illegible] June 6, 1944, and Amedee Gagnon, who died Feb. 24, 1947.
A cluster of golden memories
Will always surround their names.
Inserted by Mrs. A. Gagnon, Claire and Cecilia.

Do MEN WEAR VEILS?

Peeking under veils in hopes of catching a glimpse of an exotic Oriental beauty can be a downright dangerous pastime in North Africa. In fact, your curiosity could easily earn you a slit throat. For instead of peering into the lovely countenance of some fair African maid, you might find yourself face to face with a fierce Berber tribesman! Oddly enough, it is the men, not the women, of this strange nomadic desert people who wear the "litham," a veil drawn tightly over their features up to the eyes. The darker Berbers wear dark blue veils while the whites wear veils of lighter color. They are not supposed to unveil their lips even in sleep, and only raise the "litham" slightly to eat. But the odd ways of these tall, tough horsemen don't stop with veil-wearing. Berbers like to measure beauty by the ton. The fatter their women, the better they like them. It is nothing for an understanding Berber wife to put on a few hundred pounds just to keep hubby home nights!

Chicle From Remote Mexican Jungle Keeps American Jaws Busily Chewing

CHETUMAL, Quintana Roo Territory, Mexico. This mystery-shrouded, little known strip of land which juts out into the Caribbean from Mexico, is the home of chewing gum.

Few gum chewers know that their favorite brand probably originates in the jungles of Quintana Roo, a Mexican territory so remote and unknown to the rest of the nation that many Mexicans can't tell you where it is.

The territory — as isolated as darkest Africa — comprises the south-eastern portion of the Yucatan peninsula. It is hemmed in by the Mexican states of Campeche and Yucatan on the west. Its eastern boundary is the Caribbean, to the south are Guatemala and British Honduras.

If it weren't for Quintana Roo gum chewers might be in a bad way. The territory's zapote trees yield much chicle used by U.S. chewing-gum manufacturers.

The zapote is an unusual and useful tree. The white substance known as chicle is not its only product. Zapote wood, among the hardest in the world, is much in demand because of its great strength and beautiful grain.

LIKE MAHOGANY

Zapote looks like mahogany, but is harder and stronger. Centuries-old zapote beams still support enormous weights in the peninsula's ancient Mayan temples.

Each year native workers cut off all ties with civilization to gather chicle and cut wood in the thick jungles. During the bark-cutting season when zapotes are ripe for chicle extraction these rugged men live in improvised camps deep in the territory's dense jungle.

They spend hot insect-infested days in the bush gathering the pinky white substance that looks like raw rubber. At night the jungle comes alive with fires as crews boil and prepare liquid chicle for transportation to export centres along the coast.

Among chicle producing nations, Mexico holds a leading spot. Quintana Roo supplies a large percentage of the total production, most of which is shipped to the U.S.

For centuries this sparsely populated territory has been a land of mystery. Once it was the home of ancient Mayan cultures whose great abandoned stone cities stand amid jungle growth.

Later it served as a rendezvous for pirates and buccaneers who raided the Spanish Main. The ruins of large Spanish fortifications attest the importance of the land in the days when Spain had to protect her shipping lanes from Caribbean raiders.

RUINS OF CITY

Not far from this humid territorial capital are the ruins of Bacalar, a fortified city formerly manned by Spanish soldiers. The fort, which has not been touched since it was abandoned, is a [illegible] reminder of the Spanish [illegible] used Mexico for trade centuries.

Chetumal is Mexico's smallest capital city. It can be reached [illegible]

[illegible] any other Mexican state, the territory's yearly population is less than 20,000, the smallest of any Mexican state or territory. Large parts of Quintana Roo have not been explored.

At times natives come out of the bush from hunting trips to report sighting another old unknown Mayan city in the interior. Many of these are visible through shrouds of jungle growth.

Federated Team Gets Big Gasser

CALGARY, June 5 (CP) — Federated Petroleums and United Oils have announced a large wet gas discovery in the Nevis area west of the Stettler oil field. Stettler is about 90 miles southeast of Edmonton.

The discovery well, Federated United Nevis, flowed gas estimated at between 15,000,000 and 20,000,000 cubic feet daily from the D2 zone between 5,[illegible] and 5,[illegible] feet.

Company officials regard the well as perhaps the brightest current prospect in Alberta for an oil discovery.

It topped the D2 at 5,258 feet, more than 90 feet higher than the Gulf Lempert No. 1 well three miles southwest which found large amounts of gas and condensate in the D2 and D3 and a small oil zone in the D3. Testing is continuing.

The well is shared 75 per cent by Federated and 25 per cent by United.

Beauty and You

By MARION MATTHEWS

Summer's full skirts and many petticoat fashions, not to mention the crinolines, may give you the idea that your figure can get along by itself. This you will find come fall will be a great mistake and one you won't be able to change overnight. The warm weather will help curb your appetite and the wispy lightweight foundations should tempt you for their dainty good looks alone!

The lightweight foundation that is comfortable and flexible is excellent for good health as well as fashion. It smooths the torso, slims your waist, rounds the bustline and curves the hips. The proper foundation helps keep your posture erect and with its figure support lessens fatigue. Chosen before you buy your clothes, it can cut down on some of the usual alterations.

Because the wider skirt is popular in summer your waistline gets the spotlight and so the girdle that rises high and tips in the waist is worth considering the next time you try one on. There are good bra and waistline cinch combinations that help achieve good lines also.

Shop with a thought to your wardrobe needs — the pantie girdle to go under active sports clothes, the corselet styled in lightweight elastic for all figures and the new bras that accommodate the necklines of your clothes.

Cotton is important as a summer foundation fabric. You'll find broadcloth durable and mesh cool because it is porous. Good too are nylon marquisette, chiffon-weight power net and lace elastic.

Get a little color into your foundation wardrobe too. In addition to the conventional white and pink you can add foundations in pale blue, navy and black.

Ash Wants Saanich On Phone Party Line

The B.C. Telephone Company should let the people of Saanich in on its party line, according to Arthur Ash, Liberal candidate for Saanich, at a meeting in Hampton Hall last night.

"The phone company should take the people into its confidence and let them know just what they are doing in the matter of improved telephone service [illegible]."

The phone company was a special target of Mr. Ash last night. He scored the company's public relations and "lack of service to Saanich."

Mr. Ash also hit out at the high cost of government administration and stated that any government elected must give serious thought to this situation.

PRESSURE GROUPS

He said another evil in government is pressure groups who "year after year make unwarranted demands upon the public treasury."

The C.C.F., he said, repeated "the big lie" so often that the general public believed it. He said the C.C.F. speakers were "as usual presenting half-truths and would have the public believe that industry is paying nothing in taxes."

Mr. Ash also took issue against Herbert Anscomb and the Conservative party over the question of hospital insurance.

He said, "If they want to be honest and frank with the public they should tell us about this 'super-hospital plan' his party offers."

City By-Law Protest Made

A protest over a section of the Victoria streets traffic by-law was made yesterday by the Victoria Building Industries Exchange.

A letter to City Hall requested that the exchange be given a hearing with city council in an attempt to obtain equitable by-laws and taxes.

A council committee recently received and filed an exchange letter referring to the by-law section requiring a fee where construction work is taking up parking meter space.

Cold Meals Face Most Italians

ROME, June 6 (AP).—A strike of gas workers sent most Italians to work today without hot coffee and facing the prospect of cold meals for the next four days. The gas workers walked out throughout Italy to back their demands for higher pay. The strike is to last until Monday midnight.

Officers' Group Picks City Man

PORT ARTHUR, Ont., June 6 (CP).—Cmdr. H. Sterling Maxwell of Montreal retired naval officer, was elected president of the Dominion counsel, Naval Officers' Association of Canada, at the annual meeting held today aboard H.M.C.S. Griffon here. He succeeds Cmdr. F. G. Agnew of Toronto.

The five regional vice-presidents elected at the three-day conference were: Capt. F. A. Price, Quebec; Cmdr. J. A. McAvity, Toronto; Lieut.-Cmdr. D. W. Clark, Calgary; Lieut.-Cmdr. W. J. McIsaac, Halifax; Rear Admiral G. W. Greatlead, Victoria.

About 30 delegates from across Canada attended.

Cigarettes, Liquor Seized In Smuggling Crackdown

More than 5,500 cigarettes and 12 quart bottles of liquor were seized from a British freighter at Tahsis on the West Coast of Vancouver Island, last Sunday, in a dramatic crackdown by Canadian customs officials and the R.C.M.P. on attempted smuggling.

Details of the seizures were released yesterday by the R.C.M.P.

Involved was the Ss. Cape Nelson, owned by the Lyle Shipping Company of Glasgow. She reached Tahsis May 29 for lumber. On June 1 a customs officer there apprehended William A. Low, Tahsis employee, as he was leaving the vessel with three bottles of liquor and a case containing 500 English-brand cigarettes.

The cigarettes and liquor were seized, and an investigation started immediately. An additional nine bottles of liquor, not declared to the customs authorities, were found in the possession of ship steward Alexander Lees. They were also seized.

The following day a large sack was found floating in the Tahsis harbor. It contained 5,000 cigarettes—packed in bunches of 50 to a tin. It was established that the ship's steward had heaved them overboard shortly after the initial seizures.

DIDN'T SINK

The steward had punched holes in a number of the cigarette tins, in addition to weighting the sack with a heavy wash bowl. But there were enough unpunched tins to keep the sack afloat. The cigarettes had come from the ship's stores.

R.C.M.P. personnel from Victoria, on a request from customs authorities, flew to Tahsis in a police patrol aircraft.

Prosecution was entered against Alexander Lees, the ship's steward, for selling goods illegally imported into Canada; and also against William Low for buying such goods. Both men were fined $50 and costs. They appeared before Tahsis Magistrate A. R. Robertson.

Meanwhile, the freighter itself was placed under Canadian customs seizure, and subsequently released on deposit of $800. That deposit will be held pending a decision on the case by the Canadian department of national revenue, Ottawa.

It was the first such case recorded on Vancouver Island in more than a year, R.C.M.P. officials say. The previous occasion was at the same West Coast port, and involved liquor and cigarettes from a freighter owned by the East Asiatic Shipping Company.

Simonds Sure Agreement Due on Arms Standardization

OTTAWA, June 6 (CP)—Lieut.-Gen. Guy Simmonds expressed confidence today that North Atlantic countries will resolve their differences on weapons standardization.

Meanwhile, Canada has suspended further orders for United States .30-calibre semi-automatic Garand rifles, but will use the 10,000 rifles she already has for her home defense paratroop brigade and for the R.C.A.F. in Europe.

The chief of the general staff, optimistic about the future, told a press conference, however, that standardization cannot be achieved overnight. It may not be perfected for at least another four years.

Until the United States and the United Kingdom agree on the type of rifle that would be standard, Canada will depend on her .303-calibre Lee-Enfield rifle and Lithe Bren, described as the "best light machine gun in the world," for infantry training.

The Fate of British Columbia is in Your Hands!

The decision you make on June 12 may be the most important you ever make in your life. It will decide your personal future . . . and the fate of British Columbia.

The way you vote will affect your job . . . determine whether you earn good wages, and enjoy the benefits that only come from a prosperous, progressive people working freely to develop our enormous natural resources.

Above all, your vote will determine the conditions under which your children grow up and go out to take their place in this great Province. Your vote will decide whether they go to High School or beyond—to the steady employment and individual opportunity only possible under sound, experienced Government.

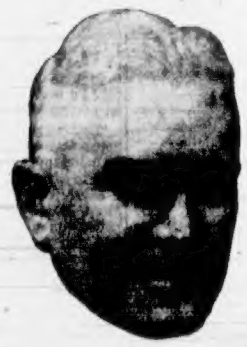

Premier Johnson's administration has brought in millions of new dollars to develop our resources—with the result that there are more and better jobs for more people than at any time in our history.

When you vote, think what would happen if a leaderless or inexperienced group should take over the administration of this great Province. We would have confusion, confiscation and frustration. Can we take that chance?

To continue to prosper—British Columbia must have a strong, experienced Government with the ability to get things done.

Led by Byron I. Johnson—a man of undisputed integrity and a great humanitarian—a Liberal Government will supply the capable, experienced administration we need to meet the exacting demands of British Columbia's future growth.

The fate of British Columbia rests in your hands.

Uncle Wiggily Story - - -

By Howard Garis

Uncle Wiggily Longears was so busy opening his box of prizes for his flower show in Hollow Tree School that he did not notice the Lady Mouse Teacher and Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy talking together in a corner. A little while before this, Nurse Jane had been crying in the corner. I told you about that in yesterday's story. Nurse Jane was sad because she had no bouquet of blossoms to exhibit in Uncle Wiggily's flower show.

"Is there anything else I can do for you, Uncle Wiggily?" asked Scally Ally the little alligator. He had just bitten the string off the box of prizes. Mr. Longears had tied the string in such a hard knot that he could not loosen it. "Can I help you any more, Mr. Longears?"

"Not just now, Scally, thank you," answered Uncle Wiggily. "I shall ask Miss Mouse to help me judge which are the best bouquets in my flower show, after I set out all the prizes."

"Then if you don't want me," gurgled Scally, "I will go outside and hold my tail in the sun. The sun will help to dry the glue that Mr. Coke used to fasten back the end of my tail that was nipped off."

"Yes, go out and bask in the sun," advised Uncle Wiggily. "You may come in when it is time to give the prizes."

So the little alligator crawled out of Hollow Tree School to bask his tail in the sunshine. Uncle Wiggily took the prizes out of the box. The boy and girl pupils wandered about, looking at the bouquets on exhibition.

"Come with me, Nurse Jane," whispered Miss Mouse. "Uncle Wiggily will not need me to help him for a few minutes. Come with me, if you please."

"Where are you taking me, Miss Mouse?" asked Nurse Jane.

"I am taking you where you can get a bouquet of June roses to put in Uncle Wiggily's flower show exhibition," squeaked the teacher.

"But we will not have time to go to the woods to get wild roses," said Nurse Jane. "I would love to have you tell me where I can get a bouquet of roses to put in Uncle Wiggily's show. But it is a long way to the woods where wild roses grow."

"We are not going to pick wild roses, Nurse Jane."

"What kind of roses are we going to pick?" asked the muskrat lady. "And where do they grow?"

"We are going to pick tame roses," said Miss Mouse with a little laugh, as she looked at the red, blue and green ribbons on her tail. "And we are going to pick them from a flower bed back of my school. I have a flower bed back of my school, I have a flower bed of my own there, and in it grow beautiful roses. You may pick a large bouquet of tame, June roses and put them in Uncle Wiggily's flower exhibition. You might win a prize!"

"Oh, no! I would never be that lucky!" said Nurse Jane. "But I thank you just the same, Miss Mouse."

So, while, inside the school, everything was almost ready for Uncle Wiggily to look at the flowers on exhibition and decide which bouquets were to get prizes, out in the garden back of the school, Miss Mouse and Nurse Jane began to pick roses.

"Ouchie, ouchie!" suddenly squeaked Miss Mouse.

"What is the matter?" asked Nurse Jane.

"Some rose thorns stuck in my paw," answered Miss Mouse.

"Please let me help you pick the roses," said a voice back of Nurse Jane and Miss Mouse. "I am so tough, though I am only a little chap, that I don't mind being stuck with thorns."

From back of a bush, where he had been basking his mended tail in the sun, came crawling and slithering, Scally Ally the little gator.

"Oh, thank you so much!" squeaked Miss Mouse. Then Scally picked up a large bunch of roses and wrapped them in a big burdock leaf so the thorns would not stick the animal ladies. "Now you shall win a prize, Nurse Jane," whispered Miss Mouse as they hurried back to the school.

"I hope so," whispered Nurse Jane.

Scally Ally went back to bask his tail in the sun. He heard a noise in the bush and then, suddenly, out popped Clarence the fox.

"Stop twisting my arm," begged Lee Hazen, "and I'll tell you about one of my unfavorite hands. "Remember those big money sweepstakes at a certain New York bridge club, Charlie Lochridge and I got permission to play in one of them by persuading our respective spouses that they, too, should enter. So along about the last round, we sat down North and South and found that our opponents East-West were, respectively, Mrs. Charles Lockridge and Mrs. Lee Hazen."

"Sylvia — that's my spouse — opened the two of diamonds. I played low from dummy and Ned — that's Charlie's spouse — won with the queen and returning the four-spot, Sylvia took the ace and continued with the nine, graciously permitting me to discard the six of hearts. Now I had to avoid losing more than a single trump trick to make the contract, so I came to my hand with the queen of hearts and led a low spade. With no hesitation whatever, my better half played the three of spades. Of course, she knew I must be missing the jack or I'd have led an honor from dummy and taken a finesse. So I finessed dummy's ten and lost to East's jack. And back came the fourth diamond—making sure that I'd lose to the king of spades no matter what happened.

"Every move the defenders made was essential. Without the diamond opening, I'd have been able to throw a diamond away on a heart. Without the fourth diamond lead, I'd have been compelled to bang the ace of spades and tell the king as my only chance to make the contract. And of course without the duck on the first round of spades, I couldn't have lost more than one spade trick.

"If I'd made four spades we'd have finished in the money—for five, we'd have won first prize. And what do you suppose I got from Sylvia on the way home? 'Well, I certainly gave you every chance for a top!'"

NAUGHTY NYLON

VANCOUVER (CP)—The fad for sheer nylon blouses invaded one city school here. A 14-year-old girl in a junior high school was told to put a sweater on over the filmy blouse. The school principal said there was no ban on the blouses as such, but it was a matter of taste.

Jobless Total Increases Slightly

Slight increase in the number of unemployed in the Victoria area was noted during the week ending June 5.

Report from the office of C. A. Mudge, manager of the National Employment Office here, said there were less women seeking work, but an increase in the number of men wanting jobs through a series of small lay-offs in the area.

Demand for stenographers and typists is still strong and there is an urgent need for waitresses for shift work, the report said.

Also available are jobs for fully qualified dry cleaner workers and domestic and personal service workers. There was an increase also in the requests for sales clerks in special lines, one vacancy being for a ladies' shoe sales clerk.

CAMP COOK

Jobs open for men included camp cook for survey party, lumber mill trimmer man, auto body man, experienced bicycle repairman, auto tune-up man, auto mechanics, hardware sales clerk, shoe salesman, watchmaker, taxi driver, office clerks.

A railway locomotive fireman (oil) is also required for one month's work and a young amateur photographer as salesman in the photographic section of a local store.

Lists for other parts of Canada include jobs for lathe hand, plasterer, hydro-electric power plant operator, flour mill traffic manager, timekeeper and first aid man, baker, blacksmith, construction electrician, diesel fuel pump service man, finance corporation representative, power plant design engineer, tile setters, sanitary inspectors, architect and dentist.

Cubs Force To Howl

Commodore Kenneth Adams, R.C.N., will receive one of the most unusual "awards" of his career today when he takes the march past of some 2,000 Scouts and Cubs at the annual rally at Macdonald Park.

He will be "awarded" the wolf howl, sounded by 1,200 Cubs.

The rally will begin at 1.45 p.m. today when Scout and Cubs in six separate groups converge on the park to form up for the march past.

Tests of various Scouts and Cub skills will be held during the afternoon and evening, and all phases of Scouting will be demonstrated.

Need for Pickers Stressed Again

An urgent need for berry pickers was again stressed yesterday by the federal-provincial farm labor service in Victoria.

Slightly more than 200 pickers are registered and at least 100 more are required for the berry season which is soon to reach a peak for employment, it was reported.

Straith Denies Neglect of Ridings; Gives School Costs Facts, Figures

Facts and figures on cost of schooling, and money spent by the government on roads and other works, were marshalled by Hon. W. T. Straith, minister of education, last night, addressing a Liberal meeting at Victoria West Community Hall.

"Our political opponents have been accusing the Liberals of neglecting their ridings," he said. "But in the past three years the government spent $3,750,000 on roads and buildings in Victoria.

"One and a half millions was spent on schools, $1,500,000 on construction of the Douglas Building, $270,000 on the Victoria College addition, and $400,000 as half the cost of the Pat Bay highway."

NOT BURDEN

Cost of new schools in B.C. has not been a burden on taxpayers, he stated. "New industries which have come to the province are contributing largely to the cost of schools.

"In Nanaimo last year five new schools were opened, and the total cost of these schools was paid by assessment taxes on the new Harmac plant at Cassidy."

Capt. D. J. Proudfoot, Liberal candidate for Victoria, also addressed the meeting, which was under the chairmanship of Mrs. E. Orchin.

Capt. Proudfoot brought up the question of hospital insurance. He quoted a case of a child being discharged from hospital this week with a bill of $4,200, all paid by hospital insurance.

JUST CAN'T PAY

"The average working man just can't pay a bill of $4,000 for hospital treatment," he said.

"No insurance company will give hospital coverage today for less than a minimum of $120 yearly," he pointed out.

He said he was "willing to meet any Conservative or anyone else on this question and prove the figures."

"It makes me sad to see that for the sake of votes one of the finest of social reforms is being destroyed.

"I still say give this scheme time to settle and it will be a boon to the province in years to come, especially to people in lower income brackets."

Opening Set June 24

Victoria's new Health and Welfare Centre on Cook Street will be officially opened June 24, with a public inspection to be held the next day, it was announced yesterday.

Mayor Claude Harrison will be presented with a key to the centre.

Selection Set

Selection for the gold medal good citizen award to be presented by the Native Sons of B.C. Post No. 1, Victoria, will be made June 23.

It is hoped the award to the neighborhood man of merit can be made at Canada Day observances in Beacon Hill Park at the end of the month.

A committee to select the Victoria citizen deemed most worthy of recognition for his contributions to community affairs will be set up after June 21, closing date for nominations.

Committee members said they had already received a good number of names but would welcome more suggestions on who should be chosen as good citizen.

They are seeking a man who has done his good neighbor deeds quietly and sincerely and has not come to public attention.

ON A WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON

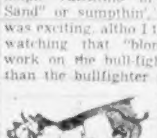

"You know," sed the G.F. after the last client had pulled out of here last Wed. "how'd you like to take me out to lunch"? We drove out Quadra way & into the Bright Spot and ordered two "beefs" and 2 "peach pies" and coffees. While we were waiting Pete Bolagno came over, and we talked 'bout paint & stuff, as he's the color stylist at the Pendray plant, and then Mr. Cruickshanks, one of the new owners, came past to say "Hello & Welcome." "It's easy to see," she sed, "why this place does such a roaring trade . . . everything is so clean . . . the pie IS pie, and they spread their whip cream all over everything." "Yep," I replied, "people will always respond to fast service, courtesy and the little extras, and I think I'll have another chunk of pie."

On the way back, as I wanted to get some boards, we turned off at Topaz Ave., and pulled up at the Green Lumber Co., where Maurice sed, "hello Maurice," & I said "Hello Maurice yourself . . ." "Tain't often, sed Lornie we have two guys in here at once with the same goofey name." " Boy . . . how I hate it," I sed, "everybody in the world is Joe, or Bill, but I've got to go all the way with the "Maurice" stuff. I once had a cute Irish girl who felt the same way, so she called me "Godfrey"

(that's my second name) but I think that is worse." "You oughta hear mine," sed the other Maurice. A lotta other guys were in there buying lumber & things, and it seemed to me they all liked to be throwing their business to Maurice & Lornie, who ARE the Green Lumber Co. in person. Then we drove up town, & as it was drizzly, we parked opposite the Dominion Movie House, & I sed, "let's do a show for an hour or so," so we got out and we bumped into K. Ulrich who asked us in to see the cruiser in Logan Mayhew's place, on display as first prize in the ladder derby. The G.F. just loved the 2 blue bunks in the cabin forw'd, and then Murray Martindale, who does Public Relations here, came down the steps, and we talked about boats while the Fordz stood glistening by. Then we went across the street & into the movie without looking to see what was playing, & so we found ourselves in the middle of a bull ring in Mexico, and I thot for a moment it was an oldie with Rudolph Valentino in "Blood & Sand" or sumpthin', but it sure was exciting, altho I think I liked watching that "blonde" go to work on the bull-fighter, rather than the bullfighter go to work on the bull.

When we got home, Trudie was draped over the sink, reading the new American Magazine which had just arrived, so while the G.F. fried up some spuds, I went outside & puttered with my petunias.

ARE YOU SATISFIED With Today's Liquor Laws?

BOTTLES UNDER THE TABLE . . .
A furtive, sneaking custom that makes law-breakers of our citizens—creates disrespect for all laws, just because one law—the liquor law—is wrong.

MODERATION? . . . NO!
As long as we must continue to buy a 26-ounce bottle to have only 2-ounce drink, we will never achieve real moderation in the use of liquor.

BOOTLEGGERS THRIVE
By unworkable restrictions on the sale of liquor, we have created a fine market for the bootleggers—and bootlegging is the father of all other rackets.

Few Cocktail Permits Wanted
A survey of Vancouver shows less than 20 establishments will apply for cocktail room licenses—six or seven hotels only, a few restaurants and cabarets. Elsewhere in the province it is the same.

The reasons for lack of interest are obvious: Equipment will cost many thousands of dollars to install—requirements for licenses will be stiff—financial responsibility will have to be shown—standards will be high. Few will be able to qualify.

VOTE YES [X] to assure a change
The only certain way to change our liquor laws is to vote "Yes" in the June 12 liquor plebiscite, "Yes" for liquor by the glass instead of by the quart. After the voters have approved, the government has stated it will set up a committee—a cross section of the community—to consult with the legislature, and design the best possible system.

LONDON, June 6 (Reuters)—Bowlers held away in the first English-Indian test match at Leeds today, tumbling 10 wickets for 210 runs.

On a wicket made sticky by overnight rain, England's off-spinner Jim Laker took the four remaining wickets in the Indian first innings this morning for only two runs.

Britain suffered a big upset within a few minutes of starting its innings when century-maker captain Len Hutton was caught off India's miracle of the spin, Ghulam Ahmed, for 10. Ahmed then took four more wickets for 75 runs conceded.

Results:

Test match (second day)—India 293. England 208 for six.

Hampshire 184 and 104. Essex 168 and 139 for four. Match abandoned as draw—rain.

Yorkshire 232. Glamorgan 233 for eight. Match drawn.

Surrey 327 and 231 for two declared. Leicestershire 289 and 38 for two. Match abandoned—rain.

Worcestershire 329 and 168 for three. Combined Services 548 for four declared. Match abandoned, no play today—rain.

Oxford University 157 and 296 for eight. [illegible]

Lancashire 224 and 142 for nine declared. Derbyshire 165 and 118. Lancashire won by 83 runs.
